Vaudeville Performer Leaps Three Floors Into Fire Net

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 11.—(P)—A girl vaudeville performer leaped three floors into a fire net and a dozen other entertainers were carried down ladders today from the flaming Seneca hotel.

The blaze swept through the second, third and fourth floors of the four-story building. Damage was estimated at $75,000. The fire was believed to have been caused by a cigarette laid on a bed in a room on the third floor where a party was in progress.

A huge crowd, attracted by the clouds of smoke billowing from the theatrical hotel in the business section, witnessed the tense drama. Most of the guests raced to safety but occupants of the third floor were trapped. Against the background of smoke and fire their heads appeared in the windows. Kicks were spread. Extension ladders were run up. Marietta Giff, vaudeville player in the Ed Loweley troupe, clambered out on a rail and jumped into space. She plummeted into a life net. Her back and shoulder were sprayed by the impact.

Firemen clambered up the ladders to reach the dozen others cut off by the conflagration. Nine of them were women. All were in night clothing. One by one they were pulled to safety and assisted to the street.

All those rescued were identified as members of the Loweley company. Also quartered in the hotel were some members of the Horace Heidt orchestra, comprising 32 musicians and men and women vocalists.

Senate Leaders Plan Final Vote on Soil-Conservation Subsidy Bill Friday Night

By D. Harold Oliver
Washington, Feb. 11.—(P)—Out of another flood of proposed farm relief substitutes, senate administration leaders today salvaged an agreement to restrict debate and clear the way for a final vote on the soil-conservation subsidy bill by Friday night.

Senator Robinson of Arkansas, the majority floor leader, obtained unanimous consent late in the day to put the debate limitation in operation Friday night. Each member then will be given 15 minutes to talk on the bill and 10 minutes on amendments.

The action followed adoption of the first amendment to the Smith-Bankhead AAA replacement measure. Offered by Senator Byrnes (D-SC) it would authorize $500,000,000 for the new programs.

The bill would permit federal subsidization of farmers for "economic use" of lands. The money would be paid directly or through states. After two years, federal grants would be made only to states.

Previously, republicans had shoved another complete substitute bill, emphasizing increased tariffs, into the spotlight. They also proposed to eliminate from the administration bill provisions authorizing direct federal grants to farmers for two years or until states adopt soil-improving programs.

Floor debate on the administration bill, which was endorsed by the American Farm Bureau Federation during a call by Edward A. O'Neal, its president, on President Roosevelt, was marked by another bi-partisan attack on its constitutionality and a defense by administration supporters.

The latest proposed alternative for the soil proposal was introduced by republican leader McNary "by request."

CURRENT COLD WAVE TO END ON THURSDAY
"Pneumonia Stage" Is Reached In State, Jirka Says
Chicago, Feb. 11.—(P)—A new wave—disease—joined winter's cold wave in the midwest today.

Dr. Frank Jirka, director of the state health department, warned the cold wave had reached the "pneumonia stage" in Illinois with a sharp advance of 435 new cases reported for the last week.

Piercing cold held full sway from the Continental Divide to the Atlantic Coast but sunny skies favored efforts to shovel away the snow of the century in the Prairie States.

Families "doubled up" to conserve coal at Burke and Fairfax, S. D. Fuel shortages remained acute in some places in Iowa, Illinois and Wisconsin. Many schools were closed. Central Illinois mines quaked increased prices.

The milk situation eased as rail and highway travel approached normal. The supply was still 40 per cent under average in Chicago.

Trains were as much as two hours late here. Most branch lines in Iowa, Minnesota and South Dakota were impassable but virtually all main highways were reopened.

Forecasters predicted the current cold wave would generally continue until Thursday as these day readings ranged the severity of the spell.

Devils Lake, N. D., -32; Boston, Minn., -28; Omaha, -7; Peoria, Ill., -10; Chicago and Milwaukee, -6; Northfield, Vt., -10; and Canton, N. Y., -2.

Iowans prepared for 25 below zero in the northern part of the state overnight. The forecast was -6 for Chicago and -15 for its suburbs.

The 25th consecutive day of sub-zero temperatures eclipsed a 61 year old record at St. Paul, Minn. Benjidi experienced its 25th successive day of below zero cold.

Key gorges again imprisoned nine men who have been harnessed four days in a government work boat in the Ohio river 35 miles from Paducah, Ky. Two days of provisions were left.

Two exposure deaths were recorded in Illinois and one in Minnesota. Fire damaged three buildings in the latter state with a total estimated loss of about $110,000. Firemen were handicapped by 15 below zero conditions.

William Harvey Dies Tuesday At Arkansas Home
Champion Of Bi-Metalism One Time Candidate For President
Monte, Ark., Feb. 11.—(P)—William Hope "Goin" Harvey, 85, veteran champion of bi-metalism and one-time presidential candidate, died at his home here at 9:20 o'clock (C. S. T.) tonight.

Harvey was stricken with peritonitis following an attack of intestinal influenza. He passed into a semi-coma late today and death followed swiftly. With him at the time of his death was his second wife, Mrs. May Ellison Leake Harvey, to whom he was married seven years ago and who was his private secretary for more than 30 years.

His three children, Tom Harvey of Huntington, W. Va., Mrs. Hammond Halliday and Miss Annette Harvey, New York City, were notified late today of their father's critical condition.

Born at Buffalo, W. Va., August 16, 1851, Harvey was the son of Col. Robert and Anna M. Hope Harvey. He was educated at Buffalo Academy and Marshall College, West Virginia.

Leo Butcher of the White Hall community was a caller in the city yesterday.

When Water Burned—No Foolin'

No, you're not "seeing things"; this really happened. This cloud of flame and smoke shot up from the waters of a drainage canal at Wichita, Kan., when a pedestrian tossed a lighted match into the stream, covered with oil waste from refineries. Firemen had to wage a stubborn fight with chemicals to stop the blaze.

Knox And Borah Decide To Enter Illinois Primary
President Roosevelt's Name Will Also Appear On Ballot
Chicago, Feb. 11.—(P)—A spirited battle for the presidential endorsement of Illinois Republican voters. In the usually lack-luster presidential primaries, was assured tonight.

Senator William E. Borah's definite mention to compete in the state was announced by Edgar J. Cook, head of the Liberal Republican Voters League, who displayed the senator's signed request for a place on the Illinois ballot.

Supporters of Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, said a similar formal declaration of Knox' candidacy would be filed on Thursday.

It guaranteed that these two would battle for popular support in the publisher's home state, as "adopted son" against "native son." The Idaho senator was born in Fairfield, Wayne county, Ill.

For Col. Knox, the filing of his "certificate of candidacy" will mark a formal bow in the presidential ring. He has been expected to announce that he will test the political going in Ohio against Senator Borah, before they compete for Illinois applause.

Simultaneously with the challenge from Senator Borah to Col. Knox, Illinois support came an announcement that President Roosevelt's name will be on the Democratic primary ballot.

There was no expectation that any rival candidate would appear, but Patrick A. Nash, national Democratic committeeman, said after conferring with the president in Washington that the party organization in Illinois would make every effort to roll up a big vote.

The three entries boomed interest in the preferential presidential primary, which will be held on April 14, to a long-time high.

Nazi Pastors Are Rewriting Bible
Bremen, Germany, Feb. 11.—(P)—Ardent Nazi pastors are rewriting Luther's version of the Bible to harmonize it with their anti-Jewish feelings and professed belief that Christ, after all, "was not Jewish."

Bishop Wiedemann of Bremen disclosed to a recent meeting of the Evangelical churches here, reports of which were available today, that the new Bible, long clamored for by some Nazis, actually is under preparation.

Hans Kerl, Nazi director of church affairs, is understood to have declined to associate his ministry with the Bremen meeting.

John's Gospel is taken by the translators as a guide to the Bible, for "National Socialists, they regard him as a divine savior in the bitter struggle against the Jewish people," the bishop said.

JUDGE WARNS WOMAN
East St. Louis, Feb. 11.—(P)—By way of impressing Mrs. Maggie Foster, a WPA worker, with a three-year probation decree after she admitted violating federal liquor laws, Federal Judge Fred L. Wham told her today the penalty would fall on her if any of her eight children committed a similar offense.

The judge said the gravity of the widow's offense was that she exposed six minor children to contempt of the law when she possessed untaxed liquor and sold it without a license.

Gov. Eugene Talmadge and Harold Ickes Speakers at Lincoln Birthday Dinner

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 11.—(P)—While Governor Eugene Talmadge of Georgia expressed the wish that "we had a man like Abraham Lincoln in the white house today," Secretary Harold Ickes of the interior tonight defended the Roosevelt administration with a declaration that the fight on "economic slavery" is still far from being won.

The two Democratic officials, who have had bitter controversies over new deal politics, spoke on the eve of Lincoln's 127th birthday in the home city of the president who emancipated the slaves.

The Georgia governor, outspoken critic of President Roosevelt, told the Mid-day Luncheon club audience: "Would that we had a man like Abraham Lincoln in the white house today."

"If we did, he would never allow a brain-truster to teach the doctrine that you can homestead yourself back to prosperity."

Secretary Ickes discussed the constitutional issue and drew a parallel between Lincoln and Roosevelt. He compared opponents of the present administration with the northern "copperheads" who sympathized with the confederacy and said: "Certainly Lincoln did not regard the constitution as an inflexible and immutable instrument. He went into the 1860 campaign with his mind fixed on the fact that the constitution was to be maintained, notwithstanding something must be done about the institution of human slavery."

"Uncontestedly his mind was fixed on his objective and that objective quite clearly was the correction of an outrageous social and economic abuse, constitution or no constitution."

Most of Talmadge's prepared speech was devoted to a tribute to Lincoln, reciting the hardships of his early life and pointing out the progress made by the Springfield lawyer whose election as president preceded the outbreak of the Civil War.

In introducing Talmadge, Governor Henry Horner of Illinois said: "This is, so far as my recollection goes, the first time that a governor of a state in Dixie has come to Springfield for the express purpose of honoring the name of Lincoln by accepting a place on a Lincoln anniversary program."

"Lincoln did put an end to the enslavement of the bodies of men in this country," Ickes declared, "but he fought to maintain men, women and children from economic slavery is still far from being won."

Because of the slavery question, he said, the constitution was an "irrepressible political issue" prior to the Civil War.

French Airliner Missing With Five Persons Aboard
Two Airplanes And Three Cutters Start Search By Air And Sea
Rio De Janeiro, Feb. 11.—(P)—A search by air and sea was under way tonight for the commercial French airliner, "Ville De Buenos Aires," lost en route on a flight across the South Atlantic.

Five members of the crew and one passenger were aboard the craft, operated by the French Airline "Air France." The passenger was Emilio Enderlein of Buenos Aires, a director of the line.

The plane had not been heard from since 1 p. m. yesterday (11 a. m. Eastern standard time). It was reported it was 410 miles east of Natal, Brazil, and flying at an altitude of 400 feet. It left Natal yesterday morning and was due at Dakar, Senegal, Africa, at 10 a. m. of a. m. E. S. T. today.

Two airplanes and three cutters were sent in search of the craft off Brazil. They were the Air France seaplane, "Ville De Rio De Janeiro," the land plane, "Centaur" and three Air France cutters.

Making up the crew of the missing plane were First Pilot Ponce; Second Pilot Colletot; Navigator L'Hotelet; Mechanic Parreire; and Radio Operator Manet.

Ponce and Colletot were veteran pilots and each had seven ocean crossings to his credit. Manet was a member of the crew of the France crew, which some weeks ago set a record for the flight from Paris to Buenos Aires of 68 hours, 45 minutes.

L'Hotelet was making his second crossing in the plane.

Previous messages from the ship indicated it was running into bad weather, one disclosing "visibility nil amid strong storm" but added, "All is well."

GOVERNMENT SPENDING TO BE CURTAILED

Farm-Relief Tax Bill Would Raise About $900,000,000

Washington, Feb. 11.—(P)—An assertion by President Roosevelt that he was moving to curtail government spending today coincided with a disclosure that federal fiscal experts were contemplating a plan for a composite farm-relief tax bill which, if submitted as such, would seek to raise $900,000,000.

Mr. Roosevelt disclosed at his press conference he had ordered Daniel Bell, acting budget director, to make a broad survey of all government departments to determine where cuts could be made in appropriations or authorizations that affect the public debt.

2—What cuts can be made in appropriations affecting next year's budget.

3—What authorizations for government borrowing and lending can be cancelled.

Among officials working on the tax bill there was talk that only $500,000,000 in taxes might be sought this year. They said $900,000,000 would be required, however, to meet all obligations left by AAA's invalidation, and to pay the cost of future farm-aid contemplated in the soil conservation bill congress is debating.

An authoritative source said the program under consideration embraced three tentative divisions:

1—Excesses of processing of farm commodities intended to raise about $400,000,000 annually, and comparable in form to the outlawed AAA processing taxes.

2—New levies, possibly through revision of income tax exemptions, to raise from $200,000,000 to $250,000,000 annually.

3—Retrospective excess profit or income taxes to cover $100,000,000 to $200,000,000 in court-imposed processing taxes lost to the government in the supreme court's Rice Millers' decision.

The president, who said he expected to receive some reports from Bell within a week, told reporters no specific sums have been mentioned as a savings goal.

Funeral Services For Chas. Curtis Held In Capitol
Thousands Of His Friends And Constituents Crowd Past Bier
Topeka, Kas., Feb. 11.—(P)—An Indian bow and arrows, crossed on his casket and the floral tributes of President Roosevelt and former President Hoover reviewed strikingly today the career of Charles Curtis as the former vice president's impressive funeral.

Thousands of his friends and constituents during his long years in the United States Senate crowded past his bier, Curtis' to Kansas for his state capital, returned.

Gov. Alf M. Landers and Senator Arthur Capper led Kansas officials in paying unprecedented state honors to a distinguished native son who died a private citizen in Washington Saturday.

They heard him eulogized, during the services in the House of Representatives hall, as an "unaffected American," a man who led a life of simplicity, who remained plain in "Charles Curtis" to Kansas from his humble start as jockey and hack driver until even after his death.

The bow and arrows were the gift of Chief Deerfoot, of the Apache tribe. They symbolized an Indian burial custom of preparing a warrior for the "happy hunting ground." Curtis was a blood member of the Kaw tribe of Indians, although he was predominantly white, and lived on their reservation when a boy.

"Millions of admiring associates, devoted friends and reverent commoners, throughout these United States join this hour," said Dr. Harold C. Case in his funeral sermon, "with grief-stricken loved ones in an affectionate tribute to a great man in a high occasion of faith in God and in a sincere prayer of gratitude for Charles Curtis."

Burial was in Topeka cemetery beside the body of Mrs. Curtis, who died several years ago.

PEKIN WOMAN ADMITS SHE SHOT HUSBAND

Mrs. Clarence Rupp Claims She Fired In Self-Defense

Pekin, Ill., Feb. 11.—(P)—Attorneys representing William Potts, charged with slaying Clarence Rupp Sunday night, told Sheriff Ralph Goar today they had obtained a statement from Rupp's wife in which she admitted shooting and wounding her husband on Feb. 5 in self defense.

Goar said that Miss Wilma Holmstritter, a maid in the Rupp home, confirmed the statement.

Potts, a brother of Mrs. Rupp, was held without bail in the Peoria county jail. Goar said Potts shot Rupp four times Sunday night, killing him instantly.

The sheriff said the Feb. 5 shooting, which was first believed to have been due to Rupp's activities in the general strike last week, was solved after the Northwestern University crime detection laboratory informed him that the first bullet fired at Rupp and the four taken from his body Sunday came from the same gun.

Sheriff Goar said he learned in questioning the maid that Mrs. Rupp bought the gun in Peoria Wednesday afternoon and that she shot her husband when he came home that night. "Rupp," the sheriff continued, "had been drinking, Miss Holmstritter told me, and Mrs. Rupp shot him in defending herself, her children and the maid from him."

The sheriff said that Potts' lawyers "have no statement in which she admits firing the shot."

State's Attorney Nathan Eliff said that the statements of Mrs. Rupp and her maid would be read before the grand jury when it convenes tomorrow.

The sheriff said he made no effort to question Mrs. Rupp since she was a patient in a local hospital. He said she was suffering from a nervous breakdown.

Sheriff Goar said he believed Rupp sought to tell him the true story of the first shooting Saturday night, but was unable to locate him.

"I am told Rupp tried to call me several times," Goar declared, "undoubtedly he wanted to accuse his wife of the shooting."

Ronald Rambo Is Sent To Prison

Jarrett was found guilty on a murder charge Sunday by a jury which fixed his punishment at 30 years in prison.

Evidence at the trial was that the two boys entered the Higgins home on the early morning of Nov. 26. Higgins was aroused and caught Rambo before he could escape. In a scuffle the boy shot and killed him.

A. L. Bowen, director of the State Department of Welfare, who set the date for the opening of the inquiry today, said both convicts and prison employees would be questioned by the investigating commission.

Although powers of the commission have not been definitely defined, Warden Joseph Ragen has indicated he would co-operate fully in producing all prison records necessary to the probe.

Ten of the 16 men Governor Horner asked to serve on the commission have accepted. They were State's Attorney Thomas J. Courtney of Cook County, Col. Henry Barrett Chamberlin, director of the Chicago crime commission; Circuit Judge John P. Prystalski, Chicago; Warden Roy Best of the Colorado state prison, Canon City, Colo.; Bishop J. H. Schlarman of the Peoria, Ill. Catholic Diocese; Dr. Preston Bradley, pastor of the People's Church of Chicago; State Senator James J. Barbour, R. Evanson; State Representative Thomas P. Smetter, (D) Rock Island; Charles H. Schweppe, president of the board of trustees of St. Luke's hospital, Chicago; and Robert L. Kern, Belleville, Ill., newspaper editor.

For Col. Knox, the filing of his "certificate of candidacy" will mark a formal bow in the presidential ring. He has been expected to announce that he will test the political going in Ohio against Senator Borah, before they compete for Illinois applause.

Simultaneously with the challenge from Senator Borah to Col. Knox, Illinois support came an announcement that President Roosevelt's name will be on the Democratic primary ballot.

There was no expectation that any rival candidate would appear, but Patrick A. Nash, national Democratic committeeman, said after conferring with the president in Washington that the party organization in Illinois would make every effort to roll up a big vote.

The three entries boomed interest in the preferential presidential primary, which will be held on April 14 to a long-time high.

When Water Burned—No Foolin'!

No, you're not "seeing things"; this really happened. This cloud of flame and smoke shot up from the waters of a drainage canal at Wichita, Kan., when a pedestrian tossed a lighted match into the stream, covered with oil waste from refineries. Firemen had to wage a stubborn fight with chemicals to stop the blaze.

Knox And Borah Decide To Enter Illinois Primary

President Roosevelt's Name Will Also Appear On Ballot

Chicago, Feb. 11.—(AP)—A spirited battle for the presidential endorsement of Illinois Republican voters, in the usually lack-luster presidential primaries, was assured tonight.

Senator William E. Borah's definite intention to compete in the state was announced by Edgar J. Cook, head of the Liberal Republican Voters' League, who displayed the senator's signed request for a place on the Illinois ballot.

Supporters of Col. Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, said a similar formal declaration of Knox' candidacy would be filed on Thursday.

It guaranteed that these two would battle for popular support in the publisher's home state, as "adopted son" against "native son." The Idaho senator was born in Fairfield, Wayne county, Ill.

For Col. Knox, the filing of his "certificate of candidacy" will mark a formal bow in the presidential ring. He has been expected to announce that he will test the political going in Ohio against Senator Borah, before they compete for Illinois applause.

Missionary And His Colleague To Be Released

Ethiopians Held Rev. Harold Street, Of Paxton, Ill., In Chains

By Albert W. Wilson

Addis Ababa, Feb. 11.—(AP)—A shackled American missionary and his Canadian colleague, held prisoners in the southwestern war zone by a local Ethiopian chieftain, have been ordered released, it was disclosed today.

The men are the Rev. Harold Street of Paxton, Ill., who was imprisoned with a dog chain fastened to his legs, and the Rev. John Trewin of Toronto, who was not shackled.

Mrs. Street and her four children were held under guard at a mission station.

Crown Prince Asfaw Wosn of Ethiopia, it was learned, ordered release of the North Americans two days ago, but because of a lack of communication facilities with southwestern Gamo province it could not be learned immediately if the order was carried out.

The missionaries, attached to the Sudan Interior mission, had refused to leave the danger zone when ordered to do so by Ethiopian provincial officials.

A letter received by the government from Mrs. Street said her husband and Mr. Trewin were arrested Jan. 27 at their station at Shama, 250 miles southwest of Addis Ababa.

Dashing Spanish Air Cavalier Wins Heart Of Senorita

Juan Pomba Leads Maria Elena Rivero To The Altar

Madrid, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Juan Ignacio Pomba, dashing Spanish air cavalier who won the heart of a senorita by a trans-Atlantic flight, led her to the altar today in a virtual elopement.

The bride's mother refused to give her consent, refused to attend the ceremony or to give her blessing afterward.

Friends said she opposed the marriage on the ground that the bride, Senorita Maria Elena Rivero, who is 19, is too young. She wanted her to remain in a convent school in Madrid.

Elena, a childhood sweetheart who was then living in Mexico City, was one of the objects of Pomba's 7,000 mile trans-Atlantic flight to the Mexican capital last year. There they were reunited.

Hope that the bride's mother would soon become reconciled was expressed by the couple as they left for Paris by automobile for a short honeymoon.

Many aviators and diplomats from Latin-American countries attended the ceremony in the church of San Marcos. Pomba wore the uniform of a civil air pilot with the decorations conferred upon him by the Mexican government upon the completion of the flight. No Mexican diplomats were present. They explained they were not invited.

The religious ceremony was performed today. The couple were wed privately by a municipal judge Sunday.

Gov. Eugene Talmadge and Harold Ickes Speakers at Lincoln Birthday Dinner

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 11.—(AP)—While Governor Eugene Talmadge of Georgia expressed the wish that "we had a man like Abraham Lincoln in the white house today," Secretary Harold L. Ickes of the interior tonight defended the Roosevelt administration with a declaration that the fight on "economic slavery" is still far from being won.

The two Democratic officials, who have had bitter controversies over new deal politics, spoke on the eve of Lincoln's 127th birthday in the home city of the president who emancipated the slaves.

The Georgia governor, outspoken critic of President Roosevelt, told the Mid-day Luncheon club audience: "Would that we had a man like Abraham Lincoln in the white house today."

"If we did, he would never allow a brain-truster's greed to teach the doctrine that 'you can hoodwink yourself back to prosperity.'"

Secretary Ickes discussed the constitutional issue and drew a parallel between Lincoln and Roosevelt.

He compared opponents of the present administration with the northern "copperheads" who sympathized with the confederacy and said: "Certainly Lincoln did not regard the constitution as an inflexible and immutable instrument. He went into the 1860 campaign with his mind firmly made up that, the constitution to the contrary notwithstanding, something must be done about the institution of human slavery.

"Undoubtedly his mind was fixed on his objective and that objective quite clearly was the correction of an outrageous social and economic abuse, constitution or no constitution."

Most of Talmadge's prepared speech was devoted to a tribute to Lincoln, reciting the hardships of his early life and pointing out the progress made by the Springfield lawyer whose election as president preceded the outbreak of the Civil war.

In introducing Talmadge, Governor Henry Horner of Illinois said: "This is, so far as my recollection goes, the first time that a governor of a state in Dixie has come to Springfield for the express purpose of honoring the name of Lincoln by accepting a place on a Lincoln anniversary program."

"Lincoln did put an end to the enslavement of the bodies of men in this country," Ickes declared, "but the fight to manumit men, women and children from economic slavery is still far from being won."

Because of the slavery question, he said, the constitution was an "irrepressible political issue" prior to the Civil war.

ATTEND LINCOLN DAY MEET IN SANGAMON

Dr. C. P. McClelland, president of MacMurray college, and Mayor Fletcher J. Blackburn were in Springfield last evening to attend the Lincoln Day celebration, held under the auspices of the Midday Luncheon club.

The meeting was at the High School auditorium. Speakers on the program included Gov. Eugene Talmadge and Harold Ickes.

President McClelland and Mayor Blackburn were members of the reception committee.

French Airliner Missing With Five Persons Aboard

Two Airplanes And Three Cutters Start Search By Air And Sea

Rio De Janeiro, Feb. 11.—(AP)—A search by air and sea was under way tonight for the commercial French airliner "Ville De Buenos Aires" long overdue on a flight across the South Atlantic.

Five members of the crew and one passenger were aboard the craft, operated by the French Airline "Air France." The passenger was Emile Barriere of Buenos Aires, a director of the line.

The plane had not been heard from since 1 p. m. yesterday (11 a. m. Eastern standard time, Monday), when it reported it was 610 miles east of Natal, Brazil, and flying at an altitude of 400 feet. It left Naval yesterday morning and was due at Dakar, Senegal, Africa, at 10 a. m. (6 a. m. E. S. T.) today.

Two airplanes and three cutters were sent in search of the craft off Brazil. They were the Air France seaplane "Ville De Rio De Janeiro," the land plane "Centaur" and three Air France cutters.

Making up the crew of the missing plane were First Pilot Ponce; Second Pilot Colletot; Navigator L'Hotelier; Mechanic Parrere; and Radio Operator Manet.

Ponce and Colletot were veteran pilots and each had seven ocean crossings to his credit. Manet was a member of the crack Air France crew which some weeks ago set a record for the flight from Paris to Buenos Aires of 68 hours, 45 minutes.

L'Hotelier was making his second crossing in the plane from the ship indicated it was running into bad weather, one disclosing "visibility nil amid strong storm" but added, "All is well."

Previous messages from the ship indicated it was running into bad weather, one disclosing "visibility nil amid strong storm" but added, "All is well."

Freighting about the weather won't change it, and worry about other matters never changes the circumstances from which they grow. But worry will weaken the body and lessen its resistance to disease germs.
Another good rule is to avoid all possible sources of contagious diseases and observe carefully all quarantine regulations. Some diseases spread because of carelessness and indifference to their possible serious effects. Quarantine is expensive for any family, and if contraction can be avoided by caution, so much the better.
With proper attention to health regulations Jacksonville should ride out the cold weather with a minimum of illness. The people themselves can do as much about this as can the health experts, and it is upon their co-operation that the city and the state must depend for aid in the war on disease now and at all times.

Another Milestone

One of the most important steps in the direction of making social transportation more serviceable to the ordinary citizen was taken recently in the formation of a new highway air and air-rail express service.

Some 560 transport planes fly daily on the lines which operate under this new set-up. The Railway Express Agency, which has been handling railroad package shipments for years, will route the traffic, and its 24,000 stations in the United States now become air express stations.
What this means is simply that faster and more economical service is available to the shipping public all over the country. Two million pounds of express were carried by air last year; under the new arrangement, the
Our entire commercial structure is keyed to fast transportation. This development helps us to take full advantage of the possibilities which the airplane opens for us.

'Short Wave' Burglary

Within a month a Cleveland "dinamite" gang has succeeded in robbing two "safe" stores with the aid of a police scout wave radio.

In each instance the burglars who blow open safes with dynamite, set up their radio and then, according to night watchmen, hold them under guard.
Keep one man constantly tuning in for official broadcasts. It made a perfect "tip-off."
Incidentally, the police admit that complete bewilderment as to how to stop this clever use of the radio.
It is something to which police departments in every city can well turn attention, for every burglar may be proceeding themselves in the same fashion. The police are faced with a mandate to devise some sort of code for their short wave set-up. As it stands now, it's too handy for the underworld.

Intolerable Tax Burdens

Since the word billion has become just a familiar sound proceeding from the United States treasury department, it has been difficult for the public to retain a sense of proportion in respect to federal expenditures and taxes. A fresh viewpoint is needed, and to this end some of the illustrations used by a special committee which recently reported on the national chambers' referendum on spending and taxes should serve the purpose.

The committee reports, for example, that the costs of government in the United States equal one-third of the total income, while taxes approximate one-fifth of that income.
Based on official data published up to November, all income reported for federal tax purposes by individuals would cover the costs of government for only 33 weeks, or of the federal government for 73 weeks. Two-thirds of all such income was possessed by persons receiving $5,000 or less. All income over $5,000 of those so reporting would last all government less than 8 weeks, or would last the federal government less than 17 weeks. All income over $100,000 of those so reporting would last all government 10 days, or would last the federal government 4 weeks.

Disease stalks State

Illinois is in the grip of several diseases which exist in epidemic proportions. Pneumonia, with 435 new cases reported the past week, is stepping into the lead, gaining on scarlet fever, which showed 736 new cases.
Winter is of course, the worst period of the year for illness, but the severity of the present winter has added greatly to the scourge.
State health authorities point out that pneumonia usually comes along with and following cold waves. Other stomach ailments of the body may have prepared it for the attack of the pneumonia germs, and the cold may lower its resistance. In the small village of Troy in Christian county four endemic diseases have caused the town to be quarantined.

Illinois may expect a rather tough time of it the rest of the winter in trying to keep its citizens healthy. But there are some things that might help depending on their effectiveness upon the individual citizen.
One of the best rules is, don't worry.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

Lewis Group Determined Not to Yield an Inch in A. F. of
L. Split . . . Miner, Chief Aims at Leadership of Labor . . . All Insurgents Expected to Line Up for Roosevelt.

By ROONEY DUTCHER
Journal-Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington—John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers have been making labor history and political history at their convention here. They will make quite a lot more in the next few months.
When Lewis flung his final defiance to the A. F. of L. in the person of Robert L. Owen, president of the Labor on the platform of Constitution Hall, the question was left whether the crisis union executives who dominate the A. F. of L. executive committee would move to expel Lewis and his allies on the Committee for Industrial Organization before Lewis himself decided to march his group out of the federation.
For the present, at least, strategy of the insurgents will be to let the political crisis pass by, and then to bring it back to the fore in the national convention in September, though the council may move to suspend their charter.

See Craft Rule Doomed
The Lewis group—which includes Sidney Hillman and the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, Tom McCarren and Charles Gorman and the United Textile Workers, David Dubinsky and the International Ladies' Garment Workers, and the 25,000,000 members of the Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding—will be unable to expel the required two-thirds vote to expel the defiant unions.

Such failure, observers think, would mark the beginning of the end of the American labor movement and the status of ascending for industrial unions.

In the meantime, Lewis and his allies will undertake to convert other unions.
Not only will they defy the council's administration has placed upon the country. And the present budget calls for another cool $1 billion dollars in expenditures to balance which taxes of $1,800,000,000 in excess of the 1935 collections would be needed. This might be done if the government were to double the corporation tax, double the personal income tax, and double the receipts from present excises on manufacturers, tobacco, and alcoholic beverages.

Prompt and drastic reduction of federal expenditures is the only way out of an increasingly intolerable situation.—Crawford, Ill., Commercial-News.

Most Worthy Aim

Illinois College has always been known for its high scholastic standing. When a majority of its students say that the attaining of Phi Beta Kappa honors is the most worthy objective of a college career, that is evidence that the high standard is being maintained and that students who spend any time on the Hill get the idea thoroughly burned into their souls.

Since the organization of a Phi Beta Kappa chapter at Illinois, there has been a quickened interest in this honorary scholastic society. Students well know that only a few can be elected each year, but if they aspire to a place on the roll of honor, they will strive to be among those few.

Not every student can be a "straight A," but the ambition to be one will put the aspirant well on the road to scholarship. Hard work will do the greater share in helping the climb to the top.

But the selection by the students of dramatics as the most popular outside college activity, and their decision that they like to watch basketball, baseball and football games reveal them as perfectly normal young people. Scholarship has to be balanced by artistic and athletic activity.

Another Milestone

One of the most important steps in the direction of making aerial transportation more serviceable to the ordinary citizen was taken recently in the formation of a nationwide air and air-rail express service.

Some 500 transport planes fly daily on the lines which operate under this new set-up. The Railway Express Agency, which has been handling railroad package shipments for years, will route the traffic, and its 23,000 stations in the United States now become air express stations.

What this means is simply that faster and more economical service is available to the shipping public all over the country. Two million pounds of express were carried by air last year; under the new arrangement, the figure should be substantially higher.

Our entire commercial structure is keyed to fast transportation. This development helps us to take fuller advantage of the possibilities which the airplane opens for us.

'Short Wave' Burglary

Within a month a Cleveland "dynamite" gang has succeeded in looting two large stores with the aid of a police short wave radio.

In each instance the burglars, who blow open safes with dynamite, set up their radio and then, according to night watchmen held under guard, kept one man constantly tuning in for official broadcasts. It made a perfect "tipoff."

Incidentally, the police admit their complete bewilderment as to how to stop this clever use of the radio.

It is something to which police departments in every city can well turn attention, for other burglars may be protecting themselves in the same fashion. The police are faced with a mandate to devise some sort of code for their short wave set-up. As it works now, it's too handy for the underworld.

The Lincoln Saga

Year by year, as the anniversary of the birth of Abraham Lincoln is kept as a sacred day by the American people, the saga of his life and work grows in richness and variety. This simple-hearted pioneer of the Illinois prairie has gathered about himself all the glamour and glory, all the honor and romance of the period in our history that was dominated by his character.

Today new stories of Lincoln's life will come to light, and so it will be for years to come. The will of Robert Lincoln, son of the civil war president, provides that the private papers of his father in his possession shall not be opened until 21 years after his death. More than a decade must yet elapse before this new source of Lincoln lore can be tapped.

Abraham Lincoln was, first and foremost, a man. He possessed the faults to which mankind is heir, not exaggerated in himself more than in others. He possessed the virtues of a real man, which enabled the great schoolmaster, experience, to develop in him a sturdy character.

Because he was so intensely human, the civil war was a heart-breaking business for Lincoln. He did his best to lessen its horrors and alleviate its sufferings; yet he knew that it must be fought to a decisive end. The nation's grief was his grief, and the sorrow of every war-stricken home was his sorrow. It was little wonder his face became the epitome of sadness in these bitter years.

It is because of this great sympathy of the man Lincoln that the saga of his life continues to grow. The people can never forget him, and the nation he guided through its darkest years will always seek more and more light on his life. What modern men would like to understand is the influence that made Lincoln what he was, if perchance it might be employed today to raise up new leaders for the nation.

Disease Stalks State

Illinois is in the grip of several diseases which exist in epidemic proportions. Pneumonia, with 435 new cases reported the past week, is stepping into the lead, gaining on scarlet fever, which showed 756 new cases. Winter, is of course, the worst period of the year for illness, but the severity of the present winter has added greatly to the scourge.

State health authorities point out that pneumonia usually comes along with and following cold waves. Other ailments of the body may have prepared it for the attack of the pneumonia germs, and the cold may lower its resistance. In the small village of Tovey in Christian county four epidemic diseases have caused the town to be quarantined.

Illinois may expect a rather tough time of it the rest of the winter in trying to keep its citizens healthy. But there are some things that might help, depending for their effectiveness upon the individual citizen.

One of the best rules is, don't worry.

MAN'S HEART SKIPS BEAT—DUE TO GAS

W. L. Adams was bloated so with gas that his heart often missed beats after eating. Adenika rid him of all gas, and now he eats anything and feels fine.—Steinheimer Drug Store.

One of the best rules is, don't worry.

Freting about the weather won't change it, and worry about other matters never changes the circumstances from which they grow. But worry will weaken the body and lessen its resistance to disease germs.

Another good rule is to avoid all possible sources of contagious diseases and observe carefully all quarantine regulations. Some diseases spread because of carelessness and indifference to their possible serious effects. Quarantine is expensive for any family, and if contagion can be avoided by caution, so much the better.

With proper attention to health regulations Jacksonville should ride out the cold weather with a minimum of illness. The people themselves can do as much about this as can the health experts, and it is upon their co-operation that the city and the state must depend for aid in the war on disease now and at all times.

Behind The Scenes In Washington

Lewis Group Determined Not to Yield an Inch in A. F. of L. Split . . . Miner Chief Aims at Leadership of Labor . . . All Insurgents Expected to Line Up for Roosevelt.

By RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal-Courier Washington Correspondent

Washington—John L. Lewis and the United Mine Workers have been making labor history and political history at their convention here. They will make quite a lot more in the next few months.

When Lewis flung his final defiance in the face of President William Green of the American Federation of Labor on the platform of Constitution Hall, the question was left whether the crafts union executives who dominate the A. F. of L.'s executive council would move to expel Lewis and his allies on the Committee for Industrial Organization before Lewis himself decided to march his group out of the federation.

For the present, at least, strategy of the insurgents will be to let the council try to do its worst. They cannot be expelled before the federation's national convention in September, though the council may move to suspend their charters.

See Craft Rule Doomed

The Lewis group—which includes Sidney Hillman and the Amalgamated Clothing Workers, Tom McMahon and Francis Gorman and the United Textile Workers, David Dubinsky and the Ladies' Garment Workers, Charles P. Howard and the Typographical Union, and others—believes that the cause of industrial unionism will be stronger at the next federation convention than it was in Atlantic City last year, when its side polled more than a third of the votes.

It believes that the conservative crafts union leaders will be unable to get the required two-thirds vote to expel the defiant unions.

Such failure, observers think, would mean the beginning of the end of craft union domination and the assurance of ascendancy for industrial unionism.

In the meantime, Lewis and his allies will undertake to convert other unions.

Not only will they defy the council's order to disband the committee, but they will widen the breach still farther by aiding organization of a militant industrial union in the automobile industry, according to present unannounced plans.

Members of the United Automobile Workers are expected to unseat the officers forced on them by the A. F. of L. seek the Lewis committee's support, and merge with other unions now in the automobile field. The U. A. W. has been forbidden by the executive council to take in craft workers.

People's Editor,
Journal-Courier Co.,
Jacksonville, Ill.

Dear Sir:

An old proverb: "There be four things which are little upon the earth, but they are exceedingly wise: The ants, a people not strong, yet they prepare their meat in the summer; —"

From Africa comes the following report: "The termites, popularly called the white ants, usually construct their buildings of clay, 12 feet high; which becomes so hard in the sun that several men can stand on their tops without breaking them down."

The Empire State building is only 200 times the height of a six-foot man, while the termite's skyscraper is over 500 times as tall as its quarter-inch-builder.

Evidentially man has used very little of his natural ability. His chief occupation is fighting — destroying property — our Country was founded in war, and extended its domain by war, while millions of ants, "—having no guide, overseer, no ruler—" live peaceably under one roof.

Sincerely,
CRITIC.

Wiant Residence Damaged By Fire Tuesday Morning

Roof of Dwelling in Park Place Ruined; Carry Man to Safety

Gaining much headway before it was discovered, fire yesterday morning badly damaged the home of Lyle Wiant, 1208 Park Place. Mr. Wiant's father, afflicted with paralysis, was carried from the second floor to safety.

Mr. Wiant heard a roaring noise and realized the house was on fire. He ran to a neighbor's home to telephone the fire department, and while he was there he saw the flames burst from the roof of his home.

Two lines of water were turned on the blaze by firemen and they succeeded in saving the property from destruction. The roof was burned away, but the fire did not get below the ceiling of the second floor of the story and a half house.

Most of the household goods were carried from the first floor, and furnishings on the second were water and smoke damaged. The damage will aggregate several hundred dollars.

At 9:20 o'clock yesterday morning, a short time before the Wiant fire, the department made a run to the Wellborn Electric Company on West Court street where a pan of oil was on fire.

Centenary Church Notes

Envelopes have been placed in the hands of the members and friends of the Centenary for a special coal collection. This was to have been received several weeks ago but on account of the intense cold was postponed until Sunday. Persons receiving envelopes are requested to return them with as liberal a contribution as they can make to this fund. Sunday was the first day of the cold weather that the church has not been reasonably comfortable. Most persons in the service used their heavy coats. The extreme cold substantially reduced attendance at all services.

Today at 2:30 p. m., Ladies' Aid will meet at the church. Mrs. Mae Stice and Mrs. Homer Rowland are in charge of the program and entertainment committee. Roll call will be answered by "Sayings of Lincoln."

At 7:30 p. m. the mid-week prayer service followed by meeting of the official board. Members and friends are asked to be in this period of spiritual enrichment.

Saturday, 2:00 p. m., Kings Heralds will meet with Mrs. Bambrook on Hardin avenue.

Choir practice Friday evening under the leadership of Miss Iola Whitlock, who is doing most efficiently in this part of the worship. Miss Whitlock sang "Jesus Lover of My Soul" as a solo in the morning worship with touching appeal.

"Meeting Life's Crises" was the subject of the eloquent and soul stirring sermon by Rev. Blair. The text was taken from three sentences from the song of Deborah. "By the waters of Reuben there were great searchings of heart; there were great resolves of heart. Oh my soul march on with strength."

With emphasis and rare beauty the minister stated there come great searchings of heart as we face life's great problems and these are followed by great resolves. If these resolves are made in harmony with the will of God there comes great strength of soul to meet life's needs. Lot, Abraham and Kagawa were given as striking examples. Those present carried to their homes a great lesson and a helpful message.

Grenfell's Work in Labrador Described In Talk at Church

Prof. Lennox in Address at
Grace M.E. Church; Dean
Williams Next

In spite of the very cold weather Sunday night a good audience assembled at Grace Methodist church to hear Prof. H. J. Lennox speak on "The Life and Work of Wilfred Grenfell." He told the story of Grenfell's work in Labrador in an exceedingly interesting way.

"Sir Wilfred Grenfell in his forty-three years work in Labrador has completely formed the economic and social life of a people. Before his coming the people in this land had sunk to almost indescribable poverty. Practically their entire livelihood depended upon the fishing trade, and whenever this failed they faced the most severe deprivations. To make conditions worse all their fish were handled by traders who made immense profits from the ignorant fishermen. By means of credit the poor people were kept in constant debt and thus lost any freedom to better themselves. Grenfell found some of these traders taking such advantage of their clients that one offered but eight dollars for a silver fox skin which Grenfell sold and from the proceeds was able to get a complete winter's supply for the family.

"Health conditions were equally bad. Doctors, nurses and hospitals were unknown in 1892 in any of Labrador, and poor fishermen could not travel to St. Johns or New Foundland. Many deaths each year were caused by tuberculosis, pneumonia, etc., while such common ailments as toothache, cuts and bruises resulted in severe illness due to neglect.

"Grenfell was not a narrow sectarian nor one who was an advocate of 'Churchianity.' With the vision of a general he organized the resources at hand and established a 'floating hospital.' A little later wealthy men and women from Canada, the United States and Europe gave financial assistance, and hospitals have been established in strategic places. Leading physicians from many parts of the world have given all of their time during the summers for special clinics, which have added immensely to the present staffs.

"The greater problem of poverty has been attacked in several ways. The dole system of relief has never been countenanced by Grenfell. Whenever a poor family needs help they are allowed to work it out. In fact practically all of the 'Grenfell cloth' is earned by the fishermen by working for the mission. To overcome the truck or credit system, co-operatives have organized and today former poverty-stricken fishermen are on the way to complete self-support. Diversified occupations such as lumbering, agriculture, herding, wood-carving have been added to the single trade of the fisherman.

"In forty years the spirit of an entire people has been changed. One man, a layman in the church, has

"Sugaring Off" Time Gives Fun as Well as Fresh Maple Sweets

By MARY E. DAQUE

If you live in the maple section, it's about time to "sugar off." Make a party of it and you'll have some fun. Boil the maple syrup in a big kettle to the soft ball stage or 236 degrees F. When it is cooked enough, put three or four tablespoonfuls into deep cereal dishes or shallow bowls, one for each guest. Let stand until cool. Provide stiff, plated silver teaspoons or small wooden paddles and let each guest stir his syrup until it becomes firm. You might have a prize for the person whose candy is whitest, smoothest and creamiest.

Cooling the syrup before stirring produces a smooth cream. If you prefer old-fashioned maple sugar, stir the syrup while hot.

Also boil some extra syrup to the hard-crack stage. Pour one or two tablespoonfuls over chipped ice in bowls. This is maple wax and you need stiff spoons to eat it.

Finally, here is a maple dessert with a funny name.

Picostoles

Four slices of bread cut one inch thick, 1 egg, 1-4 cup milk, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 cup finely chopped Brazil nuts.

Remove crusts from bread and cut into one-inch fingers. Beat egg, add milk, salt and sugar and dip bread into batter. Sprinkle with Brazil nuts and fry in deep hot fat (385 degrees F.) until a golden brown. Or bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees F.) for ten to fifteen minutes. Serve with fresh maple syrup.

Pop-overs make a good dessert served with maple syrup, and corn-bread and hot biscuit soaked in the sweet stuff are traditional.

When you serve maple syrup, avoid highly seasoned and strong-flavored foods. Egg dishes are good to precede with and so are veal steaks and roasts.

Such vegetables as peas and carrots and green beans are better than the strong-juiced.

A dinner we like is Union Club potatoes, kabobs of veal, green beans, grape fruit salad and picostoles.

Kabobs of Veal
One pound veal steak cut 1-4 inch thick, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 6 or 8 mushrooms, 2 tablespoons grated carrot, 1 teaspoon minced parsley, 1-2 bay leaf, 1 bouillon cube, 1 cup boiling water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper.

Melt 1 tablespoon butter in a deep frying pan. Add onion and cook over a low fire until straw colored. Add mushrooms cleaned and chopped and cook five minutes longer. Dissolve bouillon cube in boiling water and add with carrot and seasonings. Cook slowly for fifteen minutes. Cut veal in pieces about the size of a silver dollar and brown quickly in the other tablespoon of butter. Then put them in the sauce and simmer closely covered for half an hour. The sauce thickens and coats the meat.

Grenfell's Work in Labrador Described In Talk at Church

Prof. Lennox in Address at
Grace M.E. Church; Dean
Williams Next

In spite of the very cold weather Sunday night a good audience assembled at Grace Methodist church to hear Prof. H. J. Lennox speak on "The Life and Work of Wilfred Grenfell." He told the story of Grenfell's work in Labrador in an exceedingly interesting way.

"Sir Wilfred Grenfell in his forty-three years work in Labrador has completely formed the economic and social life of a people. Before his coming the people in this land had sunk to almost indescribable poverty. Practically their entire livelihood depended upon the fishing trade, and whenever this failed they faced the most severe deprivations. To make conditions worse all their fish were handled by traders who made immense profits from the ignorant fishermen. By means of credit the poor people were kept in constant debt and thus lost any freedom to better themselves. Grenfell found some of these traders taking such advantage of their clients that one offered but eight dollars for a silver fox skin which Grenfell sold and from the proceeds was able to get a complete winter's supply for the family.

"Health conditions were equally bad. Doctors, nurses and hospitals were unknown in 1892 in any of Labrador, and poor fishermen could not travel to St. Johns or New Foundland. Many deaths each year were caused by tuberculosis, pneumonia, etc., while such common ailments as toothache, cuts and bruises resulted in severe illness due to neglect.

"Grenfell was not a narrow sectarian nor one who was an advocate in 'Churchianity.' With the vision of a general he organized the resources at hand and established a floating hospital. A little later wealthy men and women from Canada, the United States and Europe gave financial assistance, and hospitals have been established in strategic places. Leading physicians from many parts of the world have given all of their time during the summers for special clinics, which have added immensely to the present staffs.

"The greater problem of poverty has been attacked in several ways. The dole system of relief has never been countenanced by Grenfell. Whenever a poor family needs help they are allowed to work it out. In fact practically all of the 'Grenfell cloth' is earned by the fishermen by working for the mission. To overcome the truck or credit system, co-operatives have organized and today former poverty-stricken fishermen are on the way to complete self-support. Diversified occupations such as lumbering, agriculture, herding, wood-carrying have been added to the single trade of the fisherman.

"In forty years the spirit of an entire people has been changed. One man, a layman in the church, has answered to a large extent not only the physical but the economic and social ills as well. Mission workers and church leaders all over the world might do well to study the methods of Sir Wilfred Grenfell."

Next Sunday night Miss Clara B. Williams, dean of women at Illinois College will give the sermon address on "The Life and Work of Henry VanDyke." The recent death of Henry VanDyke became the occasion for the writing of a fresh biography of the father by his gifted son, Tertius VanDyke. VanDyke's life was a many-sided one. He was a teacher, preacher, diplomat, dreamer, doer. Everybody knows him as the author of "The Other Wise Man." No leader of American thought and life has been more loved. To millions of Americans

By MARY E. DAGUE

If you live in the maple section, it's about time to "sugar off." Make a party of it and you'll have some fun.

Boil the maple syrup in a big kettle to the soft ball stage or 236 degrees F. When it is cooked enough, put three or four tablespoonfuls into deep cereal dishes or shallow bowls, one for each guest. Let stand until cool. Provide stiff, plated-silver teaspoons or small wooden paddles and let each guest stir his syrup until it

Cooling the syrup before stirring produces a smooth cream. If you prefer old-fashioned maple sugar, stir the syrup while hot.

Also boil some extra syrup to the hard-crack stage. Pour one or two tablespoonfuls over chipped ice in bowls. This is maple wax and you need stiff spoons to eat it.

Finally, here is a maple dessert with a funny name.

Picetostes

Four slices of break cut one inch thick, 1 egg, 1-4 cup milk, 1-2 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1 cup finely chopped Brazil nuts.

Remove crusts from bread and cut into one-inch fingers. Beat egg, add milk, salt and sugar and dip bread into batter. Sprinkle with Brazil nuts and fry in deep hot fat (385 degrees F.) until a golden brown. Or bake in a very hot oven (450 degrees F.) for ten to fifteen minutes. Serve with fresh maple syrup.

Pop-overs make a good dessert served with maple syrup, and corn-bread and hot biscuit soaked in the sweet stuff are traditional.

When you serve maple syrup, avoid highly seasoned and strong-flavored foods. Egg dishes are good to precede with and so are veal steaks and roasts.

Such vegetables as peas and carrots and green beans are better than the strong-julced.

A dinner we like is Union Club potatoes, kabobs of veal, green beans, grape fruit salad and picetostes.

Kabobs of Veal

One pound veal steak cut 1-4 inch thick, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 tablespoon minced onion, 6 or 8 mushrooms, 2 tablespoons grated carrot, 1 teaspoon minced parsley, 1-2 bay leaf, 1 bouillon cube, 1 cup boiling water, 1 teaspoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper.

Melt 1 tablespoon butter in a deep frying pan. Add onion and cook over a low fire until straw colored. Add mushrooms cleaned and chopped and cook five minutes longer. Dissolve bouillon cube in boiling water and add with carrot and seasonings. Cook slowly for fifteen minutes. Cut veal in pieces about the size of a silver dollar and brown quickly in the other tablespoon of butter. Then put them in the sauce and simmer closely covered for half an hour. The sauce thickens and coats the meat.

his passing was felt as a personal loss. His life is a rich record of our times and is a great Christian message for today.

Crimsons Swamp Mt. Sterling 57 To 23; Routt Wins In Overtime

J.H.S. Turns on Steam Again To Resume Winning Streak; Lead at Half Time 28 to 8

Quincy Aeads Rank As Tourney Threats

Corpus Christi Also Looks Good On Paper; Freeport Coming Along

Raining the leather through the hoop with their old time abandon, Jacksonville high trounced Mt. Sterling here last night 57 to 23 to resume their winning ways with a vengeance. They ripped Mt. Sterling wide open with a 17 point surge in the first eight minutes of play and continued to rain the ball through the hoop at a rate of almost a basket a minute.

Their 17 point spurge in the first quarter left Mt. Sterling hanging on the ropes, the visitor's attack netting then only three points. Hamm, Lakeman and Alb Ketner continued to fling the leather through the hoop to put the Crimsons in front 28 to 8 at the end of the first half.

Their blistering fire was almost as devastating in the third period when they piled in 11 more points to run the count to 39 to 14, and they continued at a reckless pace during the last quarter to roll up 18 more points.

Plunging their passes right, and shooting them fast, the Crimsons simply outclassed their rivals from start to finish. They used their fast break, and whipped the ball through the hoop, the visitor's defense when it had a chance to get set with all of the speed they had before they hit into their slump last week.

Bob Hamm was the evening's high scorer, the southpaw hooker winging the bucket seven times from the field and four times from the gift line for 18 points. Another left hander, Alb Ketner, pitched in 11 points, and a third southpaw, George Moxon, barked in 10 points. The fourth left-hand-er, John Bellatti, punched out six points from the field, while the right handers were held to two buckets each from the field.

Moxon, along with his ten points, played a bang-up game, defensively blocking out Mt. Sterling shots, and offensively controlling the ball with more accuracy. His guarding touch was still a bit off form, however, for he was forced out of the game with two fouls, the first time this season he has had four fouls called on him in one game. Alb Ketner also had to leave the game via the foul line.

Leppin, Mt. Sterling's center, was cut off without a field goal, while Wilson, a guard, was the only visitor to score more than once from the field. He tossed in 12 points, eight from the field.

The Crimsons' second was the curtain raiser from the Mt. Sterling serves 27 to 20.

Morgan County HORNER for Governor Club meeting Court House Friday evening 7:30 p. m. Hon. A. E. Rouland of Springfield will speak on the old age pension law. All questions pertaining thereto will be answered and application blanks will be distributed. Public invited.

Decatur—Although Cathedral of Springfield is receiving the most attention as likely winner of the state Catholic basketball tournament to be held here Feb. 26, 29 and March 1, there are several other schools which are accorded title chances.

One of the principal contenders is Quincy College Academy, defeated in the Normal-Eureka game, but two Catholic conference games, and this season, and both of those losses by Cathedral. Coach M. W. Heiman, more accurately, his guarding touch was still a bit off form, however, for he was forced out of the game with two fouls, the first time this season he has had four fouls called on him in one game. Alb Ketner also had to leave the game via the foul line.

Playing both Illinois and Missouri teams, the Little Hawks have marked up nine triumphs against three setbacks in all competition and rate as the tourney darkhorse.

Then there is Corpus Christi of Galesburg which has one of the outstanding records of entrants in the tourney. Coached for the first year by Jim Murphy, former Trinity football mentor, the Friars are hopeful of repeating their championship won in 1934 at Jacksonville.

Three regulars from the team which captured consolation honors in last year's event are back this season. This trio consists of A. Rice, W. Bowen, and C. Burke all of whom have played for at least two years. Corpus Christi has lost but two games on its schedule and owns a two point decision over Kewanee.

Another school which may break in the tournament picture this year is Aquin of Freeport. The Aquinians have dropped only one tilt all year and hold two victories of St. Thomas of Rockford. The Freeport school is coached by Philip Schrepff, former coach at Teutopolis.

Announcement of time schedule and schools to compete in the ninth annual tournament will be announced next Sunday. The executive committee of the Catholic athletic association is scheduled to meet Friday and Saturday and complete chart and officials will be named at that time. Three major officials are expected to be selected in addition to two for consolation play.

The same system in the Decatur meet last year in connection with pregame practice again will be followed. Fr. Phil Newman, St. Teresa athletic director, has announced. All teams will take most of their shooting and preliminary drill at the half of the previous game. This plan enabled tourney officials to run off all contests on schedule.

George Sudeth of the Prentice neighborhood was a business visitor in the city yesterday.

Illinois College baseball players and fans who have seen Al Nelson, one of the toughest arbiters in the business, will get a kick out of this comment regarding his work in a recent basketball game between State Normal and Eureka at State Normal.

John Dohm, sports editor of the Normal Vidette, the college newspaper, evidently did not care any more for the tick tack officiating in the Normal-Eureka game than did some of Normal's alumni. In his column in the Vidette, entitled "Sports Scribbles," he said this week:

"The lousy officiating which we have been witnessing at Normal basketball games reached its silliest climax of the season Tuesday night when 42 personal fouls were called, 25 of them in the first half. Al Nelson, the 'Whistling Troubadour,' had one of the biggest nights of his career as he called fouls, steps, and double dribbles as fast as the scorers could mark them down."

"It's a pity that such officials can secure licenses to referee games. Any one who reacts to the audience's harmless 'ridin', long enough during a game to make some smart crack and twist his face into such grotesque shapes, should not be allowed to referee a college basketball game."

We're ready to question the "harmless ridin'" statement in view of the later argument in the above that the game is to be played by two teams. The spectators have no part in the game.

A new type of basketball will be tried at Monticello H. S.'s spacious gymnasium Wednesday night, Feb. 12, when Mansfield plays at Monticello. The penalties will be inflicted the same as in hockey. The first change will be the elimination of the center jump except on a player he will be sent to the bench. His imprisonment will last for 30 seconds if he fouled in the backcourt, and 40 seconds if the misdemeanor was committed in the front court. His mates must play with four men until his sentence has expired. Four fouls will of course eliminate the player entirely. Ain't we got fun! The game will be a Nait-smith benefit.

Coach S. Robey Burns is getting the I. S. D. gymnasium equipped with some new devices for the edification of the spectators. He is going to have a new timing device installed to give the number of minutes to play, and already has purchased one of the Eastman Timers, a large stop watch.

The Reds, undertaking one of the most elaborate programs of any club in the big leagues, are getting a big jump on all rivals. After covering considerable territory on the hop, skip and jump basis, they will top off their training at Tampa, Fla. The full roster of Reds is due to report by Feb. 17 at San Juan.

The Chicago Cubs, National League champions, will cover the most ground this spring. They will answer first call on Feb. 21, at Avalon, Santa Catalina Island. After breaking camp on the west coast, Manager Charley Grimm's ensemble will travel by easy stages to Tampa for a short showing in Florida's "Grapefruit League."

All told, by the first week in March, upwards of 500 ambitious athletes will be engaged in the annual scramble for places on the big league payrolls. With a 23-player limit for each club, this means one out of every three players reporting for the spring tests will be turned back to the minors, if not released outright.

The rosters list 268 national and 261 American League players. This represents an aggregate increase of nearly 10 per cent over 1935's spring roll call.

The Chicago Cubs and Brooklyn Dodgers, with 37 each, have the biggest squads. The first and last place clubs in the American League, Detroit and Philadelphia, have 36 each. The Cleveland Indians, with only 26 on their roster, are within three of the regular season limit. The St. Louis Browns list 27 and the Phillies 28 players.

Illinois and Wisconsin turned in revenge victories to move into a tie for fifth place. Illinois, which lost to Iowa, 27 to 26, in its first conference game, mauled the Hawkeyes, 36 to 14, at Champaign. It was the third Illini victory in six conference starts. The Badgers got even for a 44 to 33 lacing at Columbus by whipping Ohio State, 34 to 25, in a rough battle at Madison.

Northwestern, figured as the team most likely to upset the leaders if it can be done, emerged from mid-semester inactivity by smothering Butler, 53 to 28, in a non-conference tilt at Evanston.

According to the Illinois College Rambler, Abe Feduris has dropped out of school for the final semester. Last year he returned home from the hospital. Dewey Morberg, Little 19 division champion, also is among those missing from the Bluejay ranks this year.

Mose Pearce, who is coaching at Petersburg, is having a season comparable to the Illinois College year. One boy broke an arm, another got scarlet fever, another had to have his tonsils removed, other illnesses have taken other members of his squad, and he hasn't been able to get his whole array of talent together for some time. However, he is not an object of the anvil chorus, which is making due allowances for the set-backs his squad has taken.

Ernest Keithley, who enrolled at Illinois College last fall and then dropped out when he landed a contract with the Cincinnati Reds as a result of his showing in the National Amateur baseball tournament, is to report to Houston in the Texas League the latter part of the month. Keithley played with the Oakford Grays and the local State Hospital team last summer.

Greenfield high is remodeling its gymnasium for the coming tournaments. Seats are being erected on both sides, as we understand the plans. There will be plenty of seating room for the district and regional tournaments there, and there probably will be demands for most of it all the time.

Coach S. Robey Burns is getting the I. S. D. gymnasium equipped with some new devices for the edification of the spectators. He is going to have a new timing device installed to give the number of minutes to play, and already has purchased one of the Eastman Timers, a large stop watch.

Roodhouse Topples Carrollton 25-8

Roodhouse, Feb. 11.—Continuing their sway over Greene county basketball teams, Roodhouse tonight captured an Illinois Valley, Southeastern division game here tonight 25 to 8, from Carrollton. The Roodhouse reserves won from the Carrollton seconds 22 to 11.

Showing that the Railroads are going to be a threat to White Hall's championship hopes when these two teams met Thursday night, the Railroads stopped Carrollton without a score in the first period, and allowed them only four points in the first three quarters. The Hawks scored only twice from the field as the Railroads dumped in 10 goals.

The tight Roodhouse defense defied Carrollton's efforts to break through for short shots, and their long shooting attack was not functioning with any degree of accuracy.

Bottom Drops Out Of Title Market

Associated Press Sports Editor, New York, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Pugilism's one-man boom, featuring Jarring Joe Louis, has been accompanied by no upward trend in fistic championship stock. If anything the bottom has just about dropped out of the title market, for the time being.

Kicked around by pompous proclamations, questionable match-making and artful dodging during the past few years, ring championships have dwindled in value as well as prestige. Added to the all-time lows today is the official report that Eddie (Babe) Risko, holder of the American middleweight title, emerged with $688 as his portion of a $2,287 "gate" for a title match in Newark.

This emphasizes that a fistie crown no longer is an attraction in itself. The fans first want to be convinced they are going to get some excitement, including a few knockdown wallop, for their money.

The hint that Joe Louis, if he disposes of Max Schmeling in June, will not be eager to fight Jim Braddock for the heavyweight title in September is prompted by the slump in title value. In other words, the negro's board of strategy may feel he has more to gain, financially, by putting off a bid for the crown until 1937. They figure that Louis as titleholder, would find his activities limited by the circumstances, politics and intrigues which always seem to involve a heavyweight king.

Regardless of anything you may read to the contrary, the idea of postponing a prospective title match with Louis or trying to find a substitute opponent is not to the liking of Braddock and his manager, Joe Gould. Braddock, whatever his chances may be against the Brown Bomber, is not apprehensive. Moreover, Jersey Jim and his pilot know it's the one man which will mean financial security for all concerned in the titleholder's camp.

It's an even money bet right now that Louis and Braddock will fight for the title early in the fall. The current jockeying for position, with sound effects, is so much ballyhoo.

Meanwhile there's only one other title argument in prospect hereabouts. Jack McAvoy, the battering Briton, has signed to meet John Henry Lewis, Arizona negro, who holds the American light-heavy title, but Madison Square Garden doesn't know when it will be staged and doesn't seem to care.

Chandlerville Will Hold Indec Tourney

Chandlerville, Feb. 11.—Chandlerville post of the American Legion will hold an independent basketball tournament the second week in March, according to plans announced today by H. L. Milledge, finance officer of the organization who will be in charge of the affair.

The games will be played in the Chandlerville high school gymnasium. Cash prizes will be awarded to the teams winning first, second and third places.

Although a number of invitations have been sent out to various independent teams, any other team managers who did not receive an invitation and who wish to compete may obtain information from the finance officer.

Routt Comes Back After 12 To 1 Licking in First Half To Upset Upsellers 23 to 20

Winchester, Feb. 11.—Trailing 12 to 1 at the end of the first half, Routt high Rockets, hitting the pace that brought Routt to their name, upset the upsellers here tonight with a great finish in an overtime battle 23 to 20. Routt's reserves won the opening clash 31 to 26 in another great finish after Winchester's reserves had tied up the score in the final quarter.

Paced by Perry and Lawrence, who tossed in eight points apiece, the Rockets almost saw the victory slip out of their hands in the last five seconds of play when Virgil Coughlin, Winchester scoring ace, went to the free throw line. Coughlin's attempt hit the front of the basket rim and bounded back into the court, and the regular playing time ended with the count at 18 all.

Greg Gattens set the Rockets off in front in the first minute of the overtime with a basket from the center duty, and "Skeets" Lawrence tossed in a free throw to give Routt a three point lead in the first minute and a half. Coughlin dropped in a bucket for the Wildcats, but Lawrence put the game on ice for the Rockets with another field goal with a minute to go.

Shut out in the first quarter when Winchester took a 4 to 0 lead, and held to a single free throw in the first half, Routt staged a gallant uphill battle to end the third quarter with the score still against them 13 to 9. They raced along neck and neck with the Wildcats through the fourth quarter, Routt taking an 18 to 16 lead with three minutes to go on a basket by Perry. Coughlin tied it up with a minute to go.

Routt missed several chances to score in the first half, working the ball through the crippled Winchester defense for short shots, but failing to sink them. Winchester was playing without McLaughlin, regular center, who is on the sick list.

The tight Routt defense kept the Wildcats out in the middle of the court most of the evening, and broke up several scoring threats. Winchester scored most of its points on rebounds and long shots, but put up a neat demonstration of ball handling.

Winchester, Feb. 11.—Trailing 12 to 1 at the end of the first half, Routt high Rockets, hitting the pace that brought Routt to their name, upset the upsellers here tonight with a great finish in an overtime battle 23 to 20. Routt's reserves won the opening clash 31 to 26 in another great finish after Winchester's reserves had tied up the score in the final quarter.

Paced by Perry and Lawrence, who tossed in eight points apiece, the Rockets almost saw the victory slip out of their hands in the last five seconds of play when Virgil Coughlin, Winchester scoring ace, went to the free throw line. Coughlin's attempt hit the front of the basket rim and bounded back into the court, and the regular playing time ended with the count at 18 all.

Greg Gattens set the Rockets off in front in the first minute of the overtime with a basket from the center duty, and "Skeets" Lawrence tossed in a free throw to give Routt a three point lead in the first minute and a half. Coughlin dropped in a bucket for the Wildcats, but Lawrence put the game on ice for the Rockets with another field goal with a minute to go.

Shut out in the first quarter when Winchester took a 4 to 0 lead, and held to a single free throw in the first half, Routt staged a gallant uphill battle to end the third quarter with the score still against them 13 to 9. They raced along neck and neck with the Wildcats through the fourth quarter, Routt taking an 18 to 16 lead with three minutes to go on a basket by Perry. Coughlin tied it up with a minute to go.

Routt missed several chances to score in the first half, working the ball through the crippled Winchester defense for short shots, but failing to sink them. Winchester was playing without McLaughlin, regular center, who is on the sick list.

The tight Routt defense kept the Wildcats out in the middle of the court most of the evening, and broke up several scoring threats. Winchester scored most of its points on rebounds and long shots, but put up a neat demonstration of ball handling.

Bottom Drops Out Of Title Market

Associated Press Sports Editor, New York, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Pugilism's one-man boom, featuring Jarring Joe Louis, has been accompanied by no upward trend in fistic championship stock. If anything the bottom has just about dropped out of the title market, for the time being.

Kicked around by pompous proclamations, questionable match-making and artful dodging during the past few years, ring championships have dwindled in value as well as prestige. Added to the all-time lows today is the official report that Eddie (Babe) Risko, holder of the American middleweight title, emerged with $688 as his portion of a $2,287 "gate" for a title match in Newark.

This emphasizes that a fistie crown no longer is an attraction in itself. The fans first want to be convinced they are going to get some excitement, including a few knockdown wallop, for their money.

The hint that Joe Louis, if he disposes of Max Schmeling in June, will not be eager to fight Jim Braddock for the heavyweight title in September is prompted by the slump in title value. In other words, the negro's board of strategy may feel he has more to gain, financially, by putting off a bid for the crown until 1937. They figure that Louis as titleholder, would find his activities limited by the circumstances, politics and intrigues which always seem to involve a heavyweight king.

Dollar Day Brings Many Shoppers To Business District

Merchants Pleased By Buying Rush Here As Weather Warms

Dollar Day sales got off to a good start yesterday morning when shoppers began visiting local stores at opening time. There was a first rush for choice bargains that gave an encouraging impetus to the day's trade which continued throughout the day.

The weather man favored the buying public slightly, as the mercury showed it to be a few degrees warmer. During the day the temperature moderated somewhat, making a shopping venture more pleasant and less a matter of weather endurance.

Observers noted that clerks were being kept busy in most of the stores participating in the sale, and that people moved from store to store with a definiteness that indicated a search for the Dollar Day offerings they had seen advertised.

Merchants offered a wide variety of low-priced goods for the sale. Stocks of some of the choicest bargains were limited and were soon exhausted. A limit placed on the supply of one customer could purchase helped to distribute the merchandise more evenly.

The throngs with which the shoppers had read the advertisements of Dollar Day bargains was amply demonstrated. Most people knew what they wanted and salesmanship became a matter of seeing that the customer had all requests filled. Merchants were optimistic that the day would be a success, in spite of the

I.C. Students Seek Scholarship Goal

Young People Want to Make Phi Beta Kappa, But Like Dramatics, Basketball

Students at Illinois College want to win Phi Beta Kappa honors almost en masse, according to student interest test results released this week. The test was given several weeks ago, and the answers have been duly tabulated and analyzed.

Phi Beta Kappa was selected by the students as the honor or objective most worthy to attain. The sophomore class members formed the only college group to reject the honorary society as the most worthy goal of college life. A majority of this class stated preference for an athletic letter.

More students would rather participate in dramatics than any other extra-curricular activity, the survey shows. The first five places for choice of participation were given to dramatics, swimming, baseball, football and literary societies.

But as the most interesting activity to watch from the sidelines, the students selected basketball. Baseball came second and football third. Actual participation in activities was headed by literary societies for a majority of students.

Claim Policemen Offered To Fix "Kid Cann" Case

Investigation Of Charges Will Be Made By Grand Jury

Minneapolis, Feb. 11.—(P)—A grand jury investigation of charges that two Minneapolis policemen, one of high rank, offered to "fix the Kid Cann" case for $10,000 was launched today.

The inquiry, a side development in the trial of Isadore Blumenfeld (Kid Cann) for the slaying of Published Walter Liggett, was prompted by a statement given the county attorney's office by Meyer Shulberg, head of the liquor firm which employed Blumenfeld as a salesman.

When news of Shulberg's statement was confirmed by Assistant Attorney Peter S. Neilson, it brought a demand from Chief of Police Frank Forestal that the identities of the accused pair be divulged.

"So I can suspend them until we get this thing thrashed out," he added.

"Fine," replied Neilson, "naturally the chief will want this information. He will get it in the proper time."

Neilson said Shulberg named one of the officers and "he is near the top."

Shulberg alleged in his information to the prosecutor the two policemen came to his home Christmas day and proposed to get Mrs. Liggett to change her identification of "Kid Cann" as her husband's slayer if Shulberg would give them $10,000.

Neilson said this sum was to have been turned over to an unidentified third party.

The liquor dealer was served later in the day with a subpoena to appear before the grand jury, now in session to tell his story.

Old Car Licenses To Cause Arrests

State Patrolmen Ordered to Make Cleanup of Back Numbers

Jacksonville automobile owners are being warned to get their 1936 license plates at once, as state highway patrolmen have been instructed to start arresting drivers who have not secured their 1936 plates.

For several weeks officers have been warning drivers to comply with the law by purchasing new licenses but few arrests have been made.

"The law requires new licenses to be displayed on January 1," the secretary of state said. "There is nothing in the statute to permit operation of cars after that date with old licenses. We have been lenient to date."

Coast Guardsmen Hunt For Bodies

Charlevoix, Mich., Feb. 11.—(P)—Coast Guardsmen searched the windswept wastes of Lake Michigan in vain today for the two bodies that Clayton Brown left behind when he fought his way to shore, on frozen feet, over seven miles of treacherous ice.

Two Indians helped the searching party to backtrack Brown's trail for three miles over the hummocks of ice. Then the trail was lost, far short of the boat where Brown left the frozen bodies of Claude Beardsley, his father in law, and Earl Cunningham, coast guard surman.

Cunningham and the two men he had tried to rescue from a drifting ice floe were swept out into the lake Saturday evening by a 40-mile gale. All were given up for dead until Brown staggered to an Indian cabin near Goodhart last night, hands and feet frozen. He was brought to a hospital, where physicians said today amputation of both feet might be necessary.

Soil Plan Endorsed by Bureau

McNary Introduces New Farm Bill Built Around Tariff Increases as Others Back Administration Plan

DEBATE IT IN SENATE

Washington —(AP)—Endorsement of the subsidy-soil conservation farm bill was given President Roosevelt today by leaders of the American Farm Bureau Federation as the plan was attacked and defended on the senate floor.

Edward A. O'Neal, president of the federation, and Earl C. Smith, president of the Illinois Agricultural Association, called on the president with Secretary Wallace.

"We are for the bill," O'Neal said. "No changes were recommended by the federation leaders."

Constitutional phases of the Smith's Beached bill as that moment were being assailed by Senator Hastings (D, Del.) and defended by Robinson, the Democratic leader.

Coincidentally, a new farm bill was introduced in the senate by Republican Leader McNary providing for increased tariffs, payments to farmers based on the domestic allotment plan and use of customs receipts to encourage production of new products and find new markets.

The measure was offered "by request," McNary said. George M. Peek, who resigned recently as the administration export trade adviser, had drafted it.

Shortly after its introduction, Senator Hastings (R, Del.) attacked on the floor the Smith-Bankhead soil conservation-subsidy bill as a proposal to "control the farmers themselves and to give jobs to the thousands of demerits who were employed under the AAA."

Democratic Leader Robinson interrupted Hastings to assert the last Republican platform declared for control of agricultural production and the pending AAA replacement bill came within the bounds of the Supreme Court decision invalidating the adjustment act.

Will Attempt To Rescue Nine Men

Paducah, Ky., Feb. 11.—(P)—Another ice gorge formed today, causing an 11-foot rise in the ice-lammed Ohio river where nine men have been marooned in a government work boat since last Friday, but J. C. Rhodes, government engineer here, said there were no immediate danger.

He said he would go to Elizabethtown, Ill., tomorrow and try to cross the 1,000 feet of ice floes and if possible get the men to shore. Their boat, a fifty-foot government vessel, lies between Hurricane and Plover Islands 35 miles above Paducah in the middle of the river which is some 2,000 feet wide.

Rhodes said the nine men who could not bring in their boat after the dikes job was finished last Friday, had enough plain food and plenty of fuel and could add to their meat supply by slaughtering hogs if necessary, as there are a number on Hurricane Island.

Continue Search For Missing Flier

March Field, Calif., Feb. 11.—(P)—Spurred by indications Lieut. John T. Helms may have survived the crash of his plane six weeks ago, 200 men battled rain and fog tonight in a search for a trace of the missing army flier.

"I am afraid there is little chance he will be found alive," said his commanding officer, Lieut. Col. John H. Pirie.

But augmenting 100 CCC workers, Colonel Pirie dispatched 100 soldiers from March Field to establish a camp in the San Bernardino national forest 25 miles from here where the wrecked plane was found. The searchers were directed to remain until a systematic hunt has been completed.

DEPUTY COLLECTOR HERE SEVERAL DAYS

J. G. Dollar Day Brings Many Shoppers To Business District

Merchants Pleased By Buying Rush Here As Weather Warms

Dollar Day sales got off to a good start yesterday morning when shoppers began visiting local stores at opening time. There was a first rush for choice bargains that gave an encouraging impetus to the day's trade which continued throughout the day.

The weather man favored the buying public slightly, as the mercury showed it to be a few degrees warmer. During the day the temperature moderated somewhat, making a shopping venture more pleasant and less a matter of weather endurance.

Observers noted that clerks were being kept busy in most of the stores participating in the sale, and that people moved from store to store with a definiteness that indicated a search for the Dollar Day offerings they had seen advertised.

Merchants offered a wide variety of low-priced goods for the sale. Stocks of some of the choicest bargains were limited and were soon exhausted. A limit placed on the supply one customer could purchase helped to distribute the merchandise more evenly.

The thoroughness with which the shoppers had read the advertisements of Dollar Day bargains was amply demonstrated. Most people knew what they wanted and salesmanship became a matter of seeing that the customer had all requests filled. Merchants were optimistic that the day would be a success, in spite of the "FLASH! FLASH!"

Account of Sub Zero Weather DOLLAR DAY PRICES prevail for Balance of Week.

I.C. Students Seek Scholarship Goal

Young People Want to Make Phi Beta Kappa, But Like Dramatics, Basketball

Students at Illinois College want to win Phi Beta Kappa honors almost en masse, according to student interest test results released this week. The test was given several weeks ago, and the answers have been duly tabulated and analyzed.

Phi Beta Kappa was selected by the students as the honor or objective most worthy to attain. The sophomore class members formed the only college group to reject the honorary society as the most worthy goal of college life. A majority of this class stated preference for an athletic letter.

More students would rather participate in dramatics than any other extra-curricular activity, the survey shows. The first five places for choice of participation were given to dramatics, swimming, baseball, football and literary societies.

But as the most interesting activity to watch from the sidelines, the students selected basketball. Baseball came second and football third. Actual participation in activities was headed by literary societies for a majority of students.

Claim Policemen Offered To Fix "Kid Cann" Case

Investigation Of Charges Will Be Made By Grand Jury

Minneapolis, Feb. 11.—(P)—A grand jury investigation of charges that two Minneapolis policemen, one of high rank, offered to "fix the Kid Cann" case for $10,000 was launched today.

The inquiry, a side development in the trial of Isadore Blumenfeld (Kid Cann) for the slaying of Published Walter Liggett, was prompted by a statement given the county attorney's office by Meyer Shulberg, head of the liquor firm which employed Blumenfeld as a salesman.

When news of Shulberg's statement was confirmed by Assistant Attorney Peter S. Neilson, it brought a demand from Chief of Police Frank Forestal that the identities of the accused pair be divulged.

"So I can suspend them until we get this thing threshed out," he added.

"Fine," replied Neilson, "naturally the chief will want this information. He will get it in the proper time."

Neilson said Shulberg named one of the officers and "he is near the top."

Shulberg alleged in his information to the prosecutor that the two policemen came to his home Christmas day and proposed to get Mrs. Liggett to change her identification of "Kid Cann" as her husband's slayer if Shulberg would give them $10,000. Neilson said this sum was to have been turned over to an unidentified third party.

The liquor dealer was served later in the day with a subpoena to appear before the grand jury, now in session to tell his story.

Autos Stage Race On Icebound Lake

Two Machines Roar Across Frozen Mauvaisterre; Ice is Harvested

Monday two autos came along the Vandalla road, crossed the Alton track near the Nichols park entrance—and turned onto Mauvaisterre park, making straight for the icebound lake. They went onto the ice at the southwest end of Lake Mauvaisterre, and started the race.

The machines roared across the ice at full speed. Out over the deepest part of the lake they sped, and east down the long "straight-away" toward the Dick Woods road.

The cars went to the extreme side of the lake and then returned over their course. The unusual race was witnessed by Park Superintendent F. A. Robinson, who was feeding the swans near the south shore of the lake. He said the cars were occupied by young people, whom he did not recognize. One car was a Chevrolet, but he did not know the make of the other entrant in the race.

The racers must have known the ice would be perfectly safe. In fact the thickness of the lake ice is most astounding. A few days ago a local citizen put up ice from the lake in the good old-fashioned way. He stored away about twenty tons for summer use, and he took it from a space on the lake about fifteen feet square. When he started cutting the ice was fourteen inches thick, and when he finished it was 18½ inches thick.

Old Car Licenses To Cause Arrests

State Patrolmen Ordered to Make Cleanup of Back Numbers

Jacksville automobile owners are being warned to get their 1936 license plates at once, as state highway policemen have been instructed to start arresting drivers who have not secured their 1936 plates.

For several weeks officers have been warning drivers to comply with the law by purchasing new licenses but few arrests have been made.

"The law requires new licenses to be displayed on January 1," the secretary of state said. "There is nothing in the statute to permit operation of cars after that date with old licenses. We have been lenient to date."

Coast Guardsmen Hunt For Bodies

Charlevoix, Mich., Feb. 11.—(P)—Coast Guardsmen searched the windswept wastes of Lake Michigan in vain today for the two bodies that Clayton Brown left behind when he fought his way to shore, on frozen feet, over seven miles of treacherous ice.

Two Indians helped the searching party to backtrack Brown's trail for three miles over the hummocks of ice. Then the trail was lost, far short of the boat where Brown left the frozen bodies of Claude Beardsley, his father in law, and Earl Cunningham, coast guard surfinan.

Cunningham and the two men he had tried to rescue from a drifting ice floe were swept out into the lake Saturday evening by a 40-mile gale. All were given up for dead until Brown staggered to an Indian cabin near Goodhart last night, hands and feet frozen. He was brought to a hospital, where physicians said today amputation of both feet might be necessary.

Mrs. Emery M. Funk of Roodhouse was a shopper in the city yesterday.

Much Stronger

New York, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Wall street raised the ante sharply today as it played the stock market game with the "blue chip" issues.

Leadership in the rise rested mainly in the best quality equities, with the steel, motor and other high-priced industrials as well as the better class rails and communications providing the most rapidly-moving buying vehicles.

Numerous new individual highs were tallied for the favorites, and The Associated Press average of 60 stocks climbed back another notch toward the levels of the summer of 1931. In late declines, however, brokerage quarters detected some realizing here and there through the list, even while buying was proceeding apace in other sections.

Turnover in the stock exchange was 3,661,700 shares, the highest in nearly a month, compared with 2,465,795 shares Monday.

Late Rally In Wheat Market

By John P. Boughan,
Associated Press Market Editor.

Chicago, Feb. 11.—(AP)—Rallies in wheat late today followed some improvement of export demand after the Winnipeg market had registered new low price record for the season.

Associated with rallies were cables saying that although importing countries at present are fairly well supplied with bread wheat, the safety reserve is dangerously curtailed, and that crop damage in any country would have a big bearing upon values. Leading trade authorities said there is confirmation of probable damage to domestic winter wheat southwest, but general belief is growing whether will be needed to determine it.

Wheat closed firm at the same as yesterday's finish to 1 cent higher, May 97½-1, corn 8½-1 up, May 60½, oats unchanged to 1 advance, and provisions unchanged to 5 cents decline.

Export purchases of 500,000 bushels of Canadian wheat were announced. Besides, it was stated that selling which had been attributed to the Canadian government wheat board was only in amounts sufficient to offset takings by shippers. Notice was also taken of assertions that Chicago May contracts had declined more than 31 cents without any corrective reaction, and that selling had been overdone.

Mexicans Hold Two Americans

Consul Requests Troops Be Withheld Until Negotiations to Pay Ransom Have Been Opened by Bandits.

Etzatlan, Jalisco, Mexico—(AP)—A band of Mexican kidnapers fled into the mountains of northern Jalisco state today with two American mining men, seized in a surprise assault on the Ampara mine company office.

The bandits descended here suddenly yesterday and carried off Samuel C. Sanchez, assistant manager of the company, operators of the Mazata Mine, and Paul W. Avery, an engineer.

George H. Winter, American consul at Guadalajara, 75 miles southeast of here, said he requested Mexican military authorities to withhold troops from a pursuit of the bandits until ransom negotiations could be undertaken.

The kidnapers apparently had advance information of the identity of their victims, for they selected Sanchez and Avery from among several persons who were in the office at the time of the assault.

Surprised by the attack, the mine employees were unable to combat the bandits, who escaped into the mountains immediately with their victims and an undetermined amount of money from the mine office.

Another American employee, named Cockburn, organized a rescue party. But Consul Winter said the pursuit was delayed lest the kidnapers, finding themselves hard pressed, kill the victims.

U.S. Hockey Players Beat Czechs 2 to 0

Strongest Opponent in New Series Tumbles Under American Attack

Garmisch-Partenkirchen, (AP)—Reinforced by young Phil La Batte from Minneapolis, the United States returned to form today and whipped Czechoslovakia, 2-0, in the first game of the second Round Robin series leading to the Olympic hockey championship.

The Americans outplayed the Czechs most of the way and won the game with a two-goal assault in the second period. Frank Spain of Boston, scored the first goal after four minutes 50 seconds of the period had elapsed. Another Bostonian, John Garrison, tallied the second in 13:40.

La Batte, at right defense for the first time since the Olympics started, was credited with assists on both goals.

With the Czechs, regarded as Europe's most powerful team, safely out of the way, the United States seemed certain to qualify for the final Round Robin series. The Americans still have Australia and Sweden to play in the current Round Robin but neither looms as strong as Czechoslovakia.

The other survivors, lined up in another group, include Canada, three-time Olympic champion, Great Britain, Germany and Hungary. The two teams in each group which gain top ranking in the current Round Robin will qualify for the finals.

It also provided for reappropriation through the state treasury of $9,000,000 expected from the federal government in matching the Illinois appropriation.

The relief appropriation bill, sponsored by Representative James P. Boyle, Chicago Democrat, provides that the $7,500,000 from the general revenue fund balance shall be spent for relief at a rate of not more than $2,500,000 for each 30-day period in supplementing sales tax receipts.

The emergency appropriation is to be spent by the Illinois Emergency Relief commission or by the state auditor if the IERC is abolished.

Mr. Horner took no action on the Adamowski bill empowering the Cook County Public Welfare bureau to administer old age pensions. In view of the legislature's decisive overriding of a veto last week on a similar bill for downstate counties, the governor is expected to let the Adamowski bill become a law without his signature.

New Orleans, (AP)—Francis Polk, 18, leading jockey at the fair grounds race track, was still unconscious early today after a spill of four mounts yesterday in which Homer H. Spears, 17, another jockey, was fatally injured.

Polk is under treatment at Touro infirmary. Physicians said his condition was serious.

Spears suffered a skull fracture and other injuries and died within a short time. Joseph Donoso and Charles Parke, the other jockies involved in the spill, jumped clear of the tangled horses and escaped unhurt.

The STRANGE CASE of JULIA CRAIG

by Nard Jones

BEGIN HERE TODAY

JULIA CRAIG, secretary to GEORGE WOODFORD, lawyer, is ambitious to become a night club singer. Because of this she quarrels with WOODFORD, her employer who is in love with her.

She goes to an apartment with ANY SANDERS.

Woodford gives a yacht party and asks Julia to come as a singer. Others in the party include CYNTHIA NASH, sister of JIM NASH, widow of HUGO NASH and ROYAL NESBITT.

They go to Evergreen Island, where Woodford has a lodge. There Julia meets TOM PAYSON, counting money.

Others in the party include CYNTHIA NASH, sister of JIM NASH, widow of HUGO NASH and ROYAL NESBITT.

Smith Garland opens a new night club and hires Julia as the featured singer. On the opening night she learns Payson is backing the club.

Nesbitt's dead body is discovered. Police question Julia and she is held as a material witness. Payson secures her release on bail and Peter Kemp offers to defend her.

Payson tells Julia he is in love with her.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXIV

PAYSON brought Julia back to the apartment, then telephoned Smith Garland that she would not appear.

"Was he angry?" Julia asked when Payson had finished.

"Not Smith Garland. He said he'd get a lot of pleasure out of telling them they wouldn't see Nadine White tonight."

Julia smiled. "He's a peach, Tom."

Payson took up his hat. His eyes were troubled. "Julia, you're not falling for Smith, are you?"

"I'm not falling for anybody," Julia told him.

But when Payson had left the apartment Amy guessed differently. "Payson was miles off, wasn't he, Julia?"

"What do you mean?"

"I mean you still like Peter Kemp."

"I never said I liked him at all," said Julia, taking up a cigarette.

NEXT afternoon, she received a frantic telephone call from Kemp.

"I must come right over," he told her. "It's important."

"Yes, Peter. . . ."

It seemed to her that she had hardly replaced the receiver when she heard Kemp's ring.

How ever did you get here so quickly to the office, Peter?

He smiled quickly, and hurried into the room. "I didn't come from the office. I'm not with Woodford and Brooks now, Julia."

"You mean you're—quit?"

He nodded. "Of course, Julia. I'm going to be working against Woodford in this business. And I never liked him anyhow."

"But, Peter! You mean you've given up your place there to help me? Oh, Peter, I wish you hadn't done that! And it's so unnecessary."

He looked at her oddly. "Un-necessary?" he asked. "I'm afraid you're really in a spot, Julia."

"You mean—"

"I mean that things are happening pretty fast against you."

Julia sat down, staring at him unbelievably. "You talk as if I were going to be accused of murdering Royal Nesbitt."

"I'm afraid you are, Julia."

"But—how can they say I killed Nesbitt?"

"You mean the motive?" Kemp frowned. "I don't know yet what Buchen will use. It may be that you wanted to escape from the yacht. He can prove you wanted to get away. He might build it up that you got into an argument with Nesbitt. I can't contend that the blow was a man's, not a woman's—because Nesbitt was stunned, then died by drowning."

Kemp paced across to the table. "Or Buchen may build up some love angle. He's good at that."

"But—how could he?"

"You've never heard Buchen in action. And didn't you tell him that Nesbitt had been coming to your apartment long before you ever saw him on Woodford's cruise?"

"But, no," Julia cried, half in answer to her thoughts. "They can't, Peter. They can't do anything to me, because I didn't do it!"

Kemp studied her a moment, then walked across the room and knelt

Mexicans Hold Two Americans

Consul Requests Troops Be Withheld Until Negotiations to Pay Ransom Have Been Opened by Bandits.

Etzatlán, Jalisco, Mexico—(AP)—A band of Mexican kidnapers fled into the mountains of northern Jalisco state today with two American mining men, seized in a surprise assault on the Ampara mine company office.

The bandits descended here suddenly yesterday and carried off Samuel C. Saneus, assistant manager of the company, operators of the Mazata Mine, and Paul W. Avery, an engineer.

George H. Winter, American consul at Guadalajara, 75 miles southeast of here, said he requested Mexican military authorities to withhold troops from a pursuit of the bandits until ransom negotiations could be undertaken.

The kidnapers apparently had advanced information of the identity of their victims, for they selected Saneus and Avery from among several persons who were in the office at the time of the assault.

Surprised by the attack, the mine employees were unable to combat the bandits, who escaped into the mountains immediately with their victims and an undetermined amount of money from the mine office.

Another American employee, named
Cockburn, organized a rescue party.
But Consul Winter said the pursuit was delayed lest the kidnapers, finding themselves hard pressed, kill the victims.

COLD WAVE REACHES "PNEUMONIA STAGE" 435 New Cases Reported to State; Give Causes

Springfield, Ill.—(P)—The cold wave has reached the "pneumonia stage" in Illinois. Director Frank J. Jirka of the State Health Department warned today.

A sharp advance of 435 new cases marked the course of this disease prevalence during the week ending yesterday.

"While the relation is not very well understood, cold waves usually are followed by an increased incidence of pneumonia," Dr. Jirka said.

"Disipation, fatigue, inadequate diet, alcoholic drinks and such infections as cold, influenza and measles favor the onset of pneumonia."

New cases included: scarlet fever, 756; smallpox, 12; meningitis, 13.

U.S. Hockey Players 9 Million Beat Czechs 2 to 0 Strongest Opponent in New Series Tumbles Under American Attack

Garmisch-Partenkirchen—(P)—Reinforced by young Phil La Batte from Minneapolis, the United States returned to form today and whipped Czechoslovakia, 2-0, in the first game of the second Round Robin series leading to the Olympic hockey championship.

The Americans outplayed the Czechs most of the way and won the game with a two-goal assault in the second period. Frank Spain of Boston, scored the first goal after four minutes 50 seconds of the period had elapsed. Another Bostonian, John Garrison, tallied the second in 13:40.
La Batte, at right defense for the first time since the Olympics started, was credited with assists on both goals.

With the Czechs regarded as Europe's most powerful team, safely out of the way, the United States seemed certain to qualify for the final Round Robin series. The Americans still have Australia and Sweden to play in the current Round Robin but neither looks as strong as Czechoslovakia.

The other survivors, lined up in another group, include Canada, three-time Olympic champion, Great Britain, Germany and Hungary. The two teams in each group which gain top ranking in the current Round Robin will qualify for the finals.

SAVES MONEY FOR GUN THEN BUYS BIG CHAIR

Everton, Mo.—(P)—Back in 1916
Kirk Zollinger trapped three rabbits, sold them for 27 cents, put the money in a tea pot and told his wife: "I'm saving my rabbit money for a shoe-gun."

Twenty years later Zollinger, now 74, counted the hoard of small change.
It amounted to nearly $30.

"Seems like they's a sight of difference in the way you look at things," he mused. Zollinger drove to town and bought two spring bottom rocking chairs.

State and county officials are working on details of the administrative system for the pension payments. The Adamowski bill amended a regular session appropriation to increase from $5,000,000 to $9,000,000 the state's initial contribution toward the cost of pensions.

It also provided for reappropriation through the state treasury of $9,000,000 expected from the federal government in matching the Illinois appropriation.

Earl B. Searcy To Be Candidate For Auditor Of State

Withdraws From Contest For Governor Thru Monday Action

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 11.—Earl B. Searcy, who had "substantial pledges of support," Senator Earl B. Searcy of Springfield today jumped from the Republican primary for governor to the party race for nomination for auditor.

He said he sought to prove he could practice as well as preach Republicanism. Searcy recently urged the host of candidates for the nomination as governor to withdraw for the sake of party success. His action leaves at least eight announced candidates in the field.

"Substantial pledges of support, both in Cook county and the downstate, have come to me since the suggestion of the state auditorship was made some days ago," Searcy said.

"As regards the governorship, I hope the nominee will be a man in whom all Republicans have confidence. My own record against the New Deal is well known. I began my fight against it three years ago, and have never let up. Hope of a Republican victory in November lies only in the nomination of fighters. Quiscentine will defeat us. I am trying to do all I can in the interests of Republican harmony and militancy.

"I am entering the race for State Auditor with a competent knowledge of the duties of that office. Common sense, prudent supervision without persecution and the strictest of honesty are requisites to the proper conduct of the office. I am certain I can make good as the taxpayers' public servant in that capacity."

Walter M. Province of Taylorville, one of the G. O. P. aspirants for the governorship, said:

"Senator Searcy's self-elimination will strengthen my candidacy and I expect to file my petition for nomination with the secretary of state during the coming week."

Former Lieutenant Governor John G. Ogleby of Elkhart was represented as having no intention of withdrawing from the field.

Sampson of Springfield will be the speaker of the evening, and there will be a number of musical selections.

Taxes In Greene County Will Be Higher This Year

Carrollton To Pay 28 Cents Per Hundred More; Increase General

Carrollton, Ill., Feb. 11.—Taxes in Carrollton and in Greene county will be higher this year, but the increase in this city is low in comparison to other townships in the county. The increase here is 28 cents on the hundred dollars valuation while taxes have been increased 28 per cent in White Hall and 35 per cent in Roadhouse. The total tax rates in the four cities of the county for this year, compared with their rates last year, are given in the following table:

City	1935	1936
Carrollton	$3.17	$3.45
Roadhouse	3.82	5.16
White Hall	4.23	5.62
Greenfield	2.91	4.19

There is no state tax, the motor fuel and sales taxes having taken up this tax. The county tax rate limit has been 25 cents on the hundred dollars valuation for years, but that limit seems to have been taken off, for this year the county rate in Greene is 52 cents, and that of the county is 13 cents, and this county is holding to the limit this year. Therefore a 4 cent tax has been levied for mother's pensions, but this year that item is included in the general county rate.

As usual every township levies a road and bridge tax. In other years the rate has been 25 cents. This year Carrollton's road and bridge rate is 50 cents, and each of the other twelve townships in the county has raised the rate to 33 cents, which evidently is the legal limit. Roadhouse is the highest taxed city in the county. Its city tax rate is $1.74. White Hall's city rate is $1.11. Carrollton's is 94 cents. This year library, park, city, and school taxes are all included in the one city rate. In Greenfield, Kane, Rockbridge, Eldred, Hillview and Patterson the rate is uniformly 67 cents.

School tax is the largest item in the tax levy all over the county and there is a different rate for each of the 102 school districts. In Schools District 56 (Carrollton) the school tax is $1.36. Roadhouse pays the same rate to support its grade schools and 80 cents additional for its community high school. White Hall District 66 rate is $2.00 and 80 cents additional for its community high school. In all school districts that do not have a high school a levy of 48 cents on the hundred dollars valuation is made as a non-high school tax to pay the tuition of pupils from such districts in high schools of this or other counties. County Clerk Bay Bridgewater and Deputy Miss. Martina Pranger have the tax books just about completed and ready to turn over to the collector. Record time has been made this year in completing the returns.

School Conditions Are Discussed At Board Meet Here

Await Instructions From PWA Concerning Building

Transacting only routine business, the board of education at its regular meeting last night heard a report on the condition of the schools including an extensive report on practice teaching as it is carried on in the local system, by Dr. R. O. Stoops, while marking time in expectation of instructions within a week from the Public Works Administration in regard to their building project.

All that the board can do, has been done, Chairman S. M. Foley reported for the building committee, stating that the plans have been filed with the Public Works Administration and must have the PWA's final approval before the actual construction of a new building can begin. Word relative to the project is expected within a week. The board has approved the PWA recommendation that Smith and Gibson be given the general contract, and also has approved the contracts for the heating and ventilating section of the project, and the plumbing and sewage contract.

Taking cognizance of the health conditions at present, Dr. R. O. Stoops, superintendent, told the board that despite the number of diseases prevalent, all of them appear to be under control. There are 41 cases of scarlet fever, and a number of cases of mumps, and chicken pox. Attendance has been hampered also by a large number of colds, many pupils remaining out of school to effect treatments.

Practice teaching by students from the two local colleges, is being carried on in each of the ward schools and junior and senior high schools. He told the board in explaining how the work is being handled. Practice teachers from MacMurray college are assisting in the Jefferson and Franklin schools and students from Illinois College are working in the Washington and Lafayette schools.

Practice teachers in the wards begin their work by observing, and later are given a small group of students to instruct. A slightly different procedure is being followed in the junior and senior high schools, where college students attend classes for observation purposes only. Student teachers report an hour each school in the ward buildings, and eventually become assistants to the teachers. Approximately 50 college students are taking advantage of the opportunity to observe and practice school work, he said.

Dr. Stoops was granted Feb. 22 to 28 to leave to attend the convention of the department of Superintendents of the National Education Association, to be held in St. Louis this year. Dr. Stoops, who is a member of the National Council on Education, will spend Feb. 22 attending a meeting preliminary to the meeting of the 8,000 members of the National Education Association which opens the following day.

Open Brooks For Governor Quarters In Morgan County

Local Committee Begins Organization For Primary Campaign

The Morgan County Brooks for Governor Committee has opened county headquarters in the New Dunlap hotel, members of the organization announced here Tuesday. Headquarters will be maintained on the second floor of the hotel in the interest of the candidacy of C. Wayne Brooks, Republican candidate for governor, and voters interested in his nomination and election are invited to visit the newly established headquarters.

Jacksonville supporters of Brooks predict the success of his candidacy in Morgan county, where he has many personal friends as well as party leaders who are forming a strong organization here.

While Brooks was unsuccessful in being elected to state offices at past elections due to Democratic land slides, he has been a favorite among voters in this county election figures show. In the primary election of 1932 Brooks seeking the nomination for state treasurer carried this county by a huge majority. In a field of seven candidates he received 4,036 votes, his closest competitor being E. E. Miller, who received but 592 votes.

In the April 1934 primary election Brooks again led a group of seven candidates seeking the nomination for congressman-at-large. Brooks received 2,762 votes, and his closest contestant for the office, Epler C. Mills of Virginia, received 1,213 votes.

Altho defeated in the Democratic landslide that followed the 1934 primaries Brooks was given a majority of the votes cast downstate, leading his Republican teammate, Milton E. Jones of Sangamon county, and his Democratic opponents Iggo and Brennan.

The Brooks for Governor Committee plans an aggressive campaign in Morgan county.

Earl B. Searcy To Be Candidate For Auditor Of State

Withdraws From Contest For Governor Thru Monday Action

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 11.—(P)—Declaring he had "substantial pledges of support," Senator Earl B. Searcy of Springfield today jumped from the Republican primary for governor to the party race for nomination for auditor.

He said he sought to prove he could practice as well as preach Republicanism. Searcy recently urged the host of candidates for the nomination as governor to withdraw for the sake of party success. His action leaves at least eight announced candidates in the field.

Substantial pledges of support, both in Cook county and the downstate, have come to me since the suggestion of the state auditorship was made some days ago," Searcy said.

"As regards the governorship, I hope the nominee will be a man in whom all Republicans have confidence. My own regard against the New Deal is well known. I began my fight against it three years ago, and have never let up. Hope of a Republican victory in November lies only in the nomination of fighters. Quiescence will defeat us. I am trying to do all I can in the interests of Republican harmony and military.

"I am entering the race for State Auditor with a competent knowledge of the duties of that office. Common sense, prudent supervision without persecution and the strictest of honesty are requisites to the proper conduct of the office. I am certain I can make good as the taxpayers' public servant in that capacity."

Walter M. Province of Taylorville, one of the G. O. P. aspirants for the governorship, said:

"Senator Searcy's self-elimination will strengthen my candidacy and I expect to file my petition for nomination with the secretary of state during the coming week."

Former Lieutenant Governor John G. Oglesby of Elkhart was represented as having no intention of withdrawing from the field.

Carrollton, Ill., Feb. 11.—Taxes in Carrollton and in Greene county will be higher this year, but the increase in this city is low in comparison to other townships in the county. The increase here is 28 cents on the hundred dollars valuation, while taxes have been increased 28 per cent in White Hall and 35 per cent in Roadhouse. The total tax rates in the four cities of the county for this year, compared with their rates last year, are given in the following table:

City	1935	1936
Carrollton	$3.17	$3.45

County highway tax limit remains at 13 cents, and this county is holding to the limit this year. Heretofore a 4 cent tax has been levied for mother's pensions, but this year that item is included in the general county rate.

As usual every township levies a road and bridge tax. In other years the rate has been 25 cents. This year Carrollton's road and bridge rate is 20 cents, and each of the other twelve townships in the county has raised the rate to 33 cents, which evidently is the legal limit. School Conditions Are Discussed At Board Meet Here

Transacting only routine business, the board of education at its regular meeting last night heard a report on the condition of the schools including an extensive report on practice teaching as it is carried on in the local system, by Dr. R. O. Stoops, while making time in expectation of instructions within a week from the Public Works Administration in regard to their building project.

All that the board can do, has been done. Chairman S. N. Foley reported for the building committee, stating that the plans have been filed with the Public Works Administration and must have the PWA's final approval before the actual construction of a new building can begin. Word relative to the project is expected within a week. The board has approved the PWA recommendation that Smrl and Gibson be given the general contract, and also has approved the contracts for the heating and ventilating section of the project, and the plumbing and sewage contract.

Taking cognizance of the health conditions at present, Dr. R. O. Stoops, superintendent, told the board that despite the number of diseases prevalent, all of them appear to be under control. There are 41 cases of scarlet fever and a number of cases of mumps, and chicken pox. Attendance has been hampered also by a large number of colds, many pupils remaining out of school to effect treatments.

Practice teaching by students from the two local colleges, is being carried on in each of the ward schools and junior and senior high schools. He told the board in explaining how the work is being handled. Practice teachers from MacMurray college are assisting in the Jefferson and Franklin schools and students from Illinois College are working in the Washington and Lafayette schools.

Practice teachers in the wards begin their work by observing, and later are given a small group of students to instruct. A slightly different procedure is being followed in the junior and senior high schools, where college students attend classes for observation purposes only. Student teachers report an hour each school in the ward buildings, and eventually become assistants to the teachers. Approximately 50 college students are taking advantage of the opportunity to observe and practice school work, he said.

Dr. Stoops was granted Feb. 22 to 28 to be absent to attend the convention of the department of Superintendents, of the National Education Association, to be held in St. Louis this year. Dr. Stoops, who is a member of the National Council on Education, will spend Feb. 22 attending a meeting preliminary to the meeting of the 80,000 members of the National Education Association which opens the following day.

Open Brooks For Governor Quarters In Morgan County

Local Committee Begins Organization For Primary Campaign

The Morgan County Brooks for Governor Committee has opened county headquarters in the New Dunlap hotel, members of the organization announced here Tuesday. Headquarters will be maintained on the second floor of the hotel in the interest of the candidacy of C. Wayland Brooks, Republican candidate for governor, and voters interested in his nomination and election are invited to visit the newly established headquarters.

Jacksonville supporters of Brooks predict the success of his candidacy in Morgan county, where he has many personal friends as well as party leaders who are forming a strong organization here.

While Brooks was unsuccessful in being elected to state offices at past elections due to Democratic landslides, he has been a favorite among voters in this county election figures show. In the primary election of 1932 Brooks seeking the nomination for state treasurer carried this county by a huge majority. In a field of seven candidates he received 4,036 votes, his closest competitor being E. E. Miller who received but 592 votes.

In the April 1934 primary election Brooks again led a group of seven candidates seeking the nomination for congressman-at-large. Brooks received 2,762 votes, and his closest contestant for the office, Epler C. Mills of Virginia, received 1,213 votes.

Altho defeated in the Democratic landslide that followed the 1934 primaries Brooks was given a majority of the votes cast downstate, leading his Republican opponent, Milton E. Jones of Sangamon county, and his Democratic opponent, Igoe and Brennan.

The Brooks for Governor Committee plans an aggressive campaign in Morgan county.
